TRUMP PAID JUST $750 IN INCOME TAXES DURING 2016,17

He paid no income taxes at all in 10 of the last 15 years, The New York Times reported on Monday citing his tax-return data

QUESTIONABLE REFUNDS AND DEDUCTIONS

Starting 2010, Trump has claimed and received income tax refunds totalling $72.9 million. The Internal Revenue Service is presently probing the legitimacy of the refunds. An adverse ruling could cost Trump $100 million in penalty. The report also says he took tax deductions on personal expenses such as housing, aircraft and $70,000 in hairstyling for TV shows

HE IS SITTING ON A MOUNTAIN OF DEBT

- The Times report also revealed Trump is sitting on a ticking time bomb of debt. The tax records show he's holding a total of $421 million in loans and debt that are due in the next four years
- Most of that debt comes from his Doral golf resort in Florida and Washington hotel, which are financially struggling | P12

FIND WORKAROUND TO FARM LAWS, SAYS SONIA

Asks Cong-ruled states to pass laws overriding reform legislation

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi/Chandigarh

STEPPING up her attack on the new farm laws that have left a section of farmers roiled, Congress President Sonia Gandhi on Monday asked party-ruled states to explore the possibility of workaround laws under Article 254(2) of the Constitution to override the contentious reform legislation.

While Congress-ruled state governments are also exploring legal options, a party MP from Kerala, T N Prathapan, has already approached the Supreme Court challenging the Constitutional validity of the Farmers (Empowerment and Protection) Agreement of Price Assurance and Farm Services Bill, 2020.

Farmers, especially in Punjab and Haryana, have been agitating against the three laws, which the Centre says are revolutionary as they would ensure better prices for their produce.

Among the sticking points in the new laws, according to the Opposition, are the lack of explicit guarantees written into them on continuing the existing minimum support price (MSP) system and allowing big corporate houses into the farm sector.

Plan to intensify stir in Punjab

Farmers plan to lay siege to corporate houses, offices, malls and residences of BJP leaders in Punjab. Congress leader Rahul Gandhi is expected to join agitating Punjab farmers on Gandhi Jayanti on October 2

"Hon'ble Congress President has asked Congress-ruled states to explore the possibilities to pass laws in their states under Article 254(2) of the Constitution, which allows the state legislatures to pass a law to override a Central law, which then comes for President's assent," said K C Venugopal, Congress general secretary in charge of the organisation.

According to Article 254(2), "Where a law made by the Legislature of a State with respect to one of the matters enumerated in the Concurrent List contains any provision repugnant to the provisions of an earlier law made by Parliament or an existing law with respect to that matter, then, the law so made by the Legislature of such State shall, if it has been reserved for the consideration of the President and has received his assent, prevail in that State."

As for the legal challenge, Punjab Chief Minister Capt Amarinder Singh said agitation and legal recourse will have to be undertaken simultaneously.

"Our lawyers are coming from Delhi tomorrow (Tuesday). We will discuss how to proceed in the matter and then challenge the legislation in the Supreme Court," he said.

Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot submitted a memorandum to President Ram Nath Kovind and Governor Kalraj Mishra seeking rollback of the legislation. P9

Bandh gets mixed response in K'taka

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE call for a statewide bandh by farmer organisations on Monday received a mixed response in Karnataka as police cracked down on protesters, detaining them at the first sight of disruption.

Protests, however, were witnessed across the state with over 50 organisations, including labour unions, Dalit organisations, pro-Kannada outfits, student bodies and Opposition parties, joining farmers in their protest against amendments to land and farm acts.

Hundreds of protesters gathered at Town Hall in Bengaluru on Monday afternoon before rain played spoilsport. The bandh was near complete in the Mysuru and Old Mysuru regions with business establishments readily backing it.

In Mysuru, most shops in the central business district were shut voluntarily till afternoon, while state transport corporation bus services were suspended for some time in Vijayapura and Kalaburagi.

In Bengaluru, protests led to massive traffic snarls at several places, including KR Puram and Sumanahalli junctions, Majestic and central parts of the city, as rallies began from the outer ring roads and reached Mysuru Bank Circle.

As over 5,000 farmers joined the rally at Mysuru Bank Circle, Maurya Circle, and Town Hall junction, commuters were stuck in traffic jams on JC Road, KR Circle and Nrupathunga Road.

Karnataka Rakshana Vedike activists barged into Krantiveera Sangolli Rayanna Railway Station and Kempegowda International Airport, while some organisations blocked highways and toll gates. The police took thousands of protesters into custody when they tried to stop vehicles at various places in the city.

The protests began around 6.30 am, and in many places, protesters forced owners of some commercial establishments to close for the day.

BSY to visit farmers and create awareness

On a day when farmers in the state called for a state-wide bandh, CM B S Yediyurappa said they were being misled with wrong information. He said he would personally go on a state-wide tour and meet farmers, and create awareness among them on the amendments to the farm and land bills. "I appeal to my farmers to wait for six months and watch how the reforms will turn out. It will be favourable for them," the Chief Minister said. P4

No quorum: RBI meet put off as govt sits on vacancies

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

THE Reserve Bank of India on Monday postponed its three-day monetary policy meeting that was scheduled to begin from Tuesday.

While RBI did not cite any reason, experts said the meeting could not have taken place anyway, due to lack of quorum. The six-member Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) currently has only three members, while four must be present to hold the meeting. The terms of three external members — Chetan Ghate, Pami Dua and Ravindra Dholakia — ended last month, but the government is yet to announce replacements for them.

Half of the panel, led by the RBI Governor, comprises external independent members with a four-year term. External members are not eligible for reappointment.

Earlier, the government had declined the central bank's request to extend the tenure of the members. Instead, a panel led by Department of Economic Affairs secretary Tarun Bajaj was set up to select new members.

Experts say the procedural delay could handicap crucial decision-making. "The economy is facing a serious challenge and RBI has been leading from the front with quick responses through rate cuts etc. This delay could have been avoided," said V K Vijayakumar, Chief Investment Strategist at Geojit Financial Services.

Interest on interest cannot be waived, FinMin may tell SC

ANURADHA SHUKLA @New Delhi

WHILE the Centre on Monday sought more time from the Supreme Court to clarify its stand on 'interest on interest' on suspended EMIs during the loan moratorium period, sources told TNIE that the Finance Ministry has made up its mind that it cannot be waived off.

"The Department of Financial Services has already spoken to banks and is of the view that waiving this interest on interest will further strain the financials of banks. One cannot weaken a business to strengthen another. Banks have raised their concern in this regard and their feedback had been submitted to the Centre," said a senior Finance Ministry official.

Loan moratorium case adjourned till Oct 5

The Supreme Court on Monday adjourned the loan moratorium case till October 5, granting more time to the Centre, RBI and banks to work together and file a concrete reply on their stand

Similar feedback was given by the Rajiv Mehrishi panel, whose report is yet to be made public, the official added.

"The Mehrishi panel's view is that the government can bear the burden of interest on interest, so that neither bankers nor customers will have to take a hit. But the overall financial burden on banks will have to be calculated. Given the situation of the exchequer, this is not a comfortable option. Much will depend on what RBI says," the official told TNIE.

On Monday, the Centre informed the Supreme Court that it will take a decision on the interest on interest issue in the next two or three days

The case has been pending in the top court for the past few months. In May, RBI told the court that it was not in favour of a "forced waiver of interest", as it would not only hurt the financial viability of banks, but also affect the interests of depositors. Subsequently, the Finance Ministry told the SC that it was in agreement with RBI's stand. This drew sharp comments from the court that the government cannot hide behind RBI.

BJP MP Tejasvi_Surya calling Bengaluru, a global city known for Technology and Innovation, as an epicenter of terror is highly condemnable. GDP growth has crashed and with such statements, which investor will come to Bengaluru & Karnataka? Will PM and FM answer. — DK Shivakumar, KPCC president

Surya's terror remark gets Bengalureans' goat

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

NEWLY-appointed BJP Yuva Morcha president Tejasvi Surya's remarks on Bengaluru becoming an epicentre of terror activities drew sharp criticism from the opposition Congress, which demanded sacking of the young Bangalore South MP, even as netizens termed his remark "injustice to the vibrant city". Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa, however, tried to downplay the MP's statements.

Surya, who is currently in Bihar, had said on Sunday in Delhi that over the last few years, Bengaluru had become a terror epicentre, and thanked Union Home Minister Amit Shah for promising the state government that the National Investigation Agency (NIA) office would be located in Bengaluru.

Yediyurappa defended his party MP, saying what Surya meant was that terror activities have increased nowadays and an NIA office in the state capital would help.

But Surya's comment drew a lot of flak. KPCC president DK Shivakumar demanded that the BJP sack the MP for the comments.

Former minister and MLA Priyank Kharge asked BJP leaders in the state to explain how many terror activities have been orchestrated in Bengaluru, and said Industries Minister Jagadish Shettar would now have a tough time convincing investors to come to the "epicentre of terror".

State Congress working president Saleem Ahmed termed it "shameful". Surya must apologise, he demanded.

Several people took to social media to slam the MP and accused him of damaging Bengaluru's image. Many questioned the logic behind making such remarks to push the Centre to set up an NIA office in Bengaluru. Some even compared Surya's remarks to Bollywood actor Kangana Ranaut's recent comment describing Mumbai as "POK".

Covid-19 positivity rate rising, poor worst hit

RANJANI MADHAVAN @Bengaluru

FROM July 5 till Monday, the Covid positivity rate has increased steadily from 3.32 per cent to 12.34 per cent. The trend of virus spread remains worrisome, even as the mortality rate has declined from 2 per cent in July to 1.48 per cent on Monday.

Dr M K Sudarshan, chairman, Karnataka Covid Technical Advisory Committee, said the reason for the increase in positivity rate is more testing of contacts, with less of Rapid Antigen Testing and more of RT-PCR tests.

A BBMP health worker in Bengaluru on Monday | VINODKUMAR T

"The transmission is more across lower- and lower middle-income groups due to their living conditions, crowding in their areas and lack of awareness on wearing masks. They bring Covid-19 home and infect others as well. They may not have facilities at home to maintain social distance. The situation is better among the higher- and middle-income households," Dr Sudarshan said, adding that by just being around a positive patient, one does not catch the virus. "The virus spreads when both the negative and positive individuals do not wear masks, thereby getting exposed; both are within one metre distance; and their duration of interaction is over 20 minutes. Moreover, family members sit and eat together and therefore become primary contacts," he said. P3

Exorcist thrashes 2-yr-old girl to death in Chitradurga

ENS @Chitradurga

THE superstitious belief of her parents that she was possessed, cost the life of a two-year-old girl at Ajjikyathanahalli village near Chikkajajur in Chitradurga district late on Sunday night.

Poornika's parents took her to Yellamma Temple to let priest Rakesh exorcise her of ghosts. But when he allegedly started thrashing her with neem sticks, she collapsed and died. But Rakesh convinced the parents that the girl had been rid of spirits and she would be fine once she is treated.

When the girl was rushed to hospital, the doctors declared her brought dead. Rakesh has been arrested.

BU students get kisan funds instead of scholarships

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA
@Bengaluru

STUDENTS from Bangalore University were in for a surprise when they received an SMS alert recently about money being deposited in their account under the PM Kisan Samman Yojana (PMKSY) and Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act (MGNREGA).

The amounts ranged from Rs 6,000 to Rs 30,000, and these SC/ST students were not sure as to why the money was deposited all of a sudden.

However, when they checked their SSD portal (the communication link between them and the social welfare department that disburses their annual scholarships), they realised that the amount shown in the text message was reflected in the portal. This meant that the money came from the social welfare department itself.

The period from May to July was hard for nearly 300 scholars from various schools of studies under Bangalore University, as they did not receive even the Rs 750 per month for their day-to-day expenses which they should have got from the social welfare department. P7

Traffic cops collect ₹ 2.14 cr fines in 7 days

After lockdown lull, police back in action with over 48,000 cases in a week; helmet-less riding biggest violation

MG CHETAN @Bengaluru

VEHICLE users, especially two-wheeler riders — who were used for a care-free ride without wearing helmets and flouting traffic rules during the lockdown, are in for a shock over the last few days, as the traffic police have started cracking down on even smallest of violations.

The Covid-induced lockdown had reduced vehicular movement to a large extent in the city, and the traffic police too had stopped enforcement. As a fallout, motorists and bikers started violating traffic rules, such as riding without a helmet, triple riding, signal jumps, over-speeding and others.

The traffic police, due to the pandemic, had started contactless enforcement and issued notices through Field Traffic Violation Report (FTVR). Now, with normal vehicular traffic back on city roads, the traffic police have also started fining the violators.

"Commuters tend to violate rules if there is no police presence. That is what exactly happened during the lockdown. Though it had come to our knowledge, we did not go for strict enforcement keeping the safety of our staff in mind, but contactless enforcement was on. However, the enforcement is back like pre-Covid times now," a senior police officer said.

The police are sending a strong message to violators by checking vehicles on main roads and major junctions. In just seven days, from September 13 to 19, the police booked 48,141 cases, collecting Rs 2,14,38,000. More than 50 per cent of these cases were booked for helmet-less riding.

Joint Commissioner of Police (Traffic) BR Ravikanthegowda said, "Due to the pandemic, we were following contactless enforcement. There were also some accidents because of this. We started the enforcement again four weeks ago and it is in full swing over the past week. Discipline is back among commuters. We are taking all precautionary measures to ensure the safety of our staff."

Railway platform tickets to come with QR code

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

YOU can purchase platform tickets at the KSR railway station (Bengaluru City) without stepping into the booking office anymore. For, the Indian Railway Stations Development Corporation (IRSDC) has now put up two new kiosks, one each at the Platform One and Platform Eight entries, exclusively for platform tickets.

It plans to facilitate booking using QR code at kiosks as part of its modernisation efforts, which also has the added advantage of avoiding personal interface in Covid-19 time.

A senior IRSDC official told The New Indian Express that the Corporation took over the work of physical booking of platform tickets through its contractor. "From the wee hours of Sunday morning, the booking of tickets has been handed over to us by the Bengaluru Division. We have set up the kiosks manned by staffers right at the two entries of the station, which will be a big convenience to the public as they can park their vehicles and collect the ticket there only," he said.

IRSDC has been handed over the maintenance of KSR station alone in Bengaluru Division. "We sold 532 tickets from both the counters on Sunday. The sales have been higher than that operated by the Division earlier mainly due to convenient and visible location," he said.

A platform ticket has been priced at Rs 50 at Cantonment, City and Yesvantpur stations in order to dissuade crowds at stations and reduce the spread of Covid-19.

A big move in the offing is that platform tickets can be booked through these kiosks which will have a QR code displayed on it. "One just needs to bring along a mobile, scan the code and collect the ticket from the slit below. There will be no human interface," he said. IRSDC will be launching the facility in a fortnight, the official said.

A N Krishna Reddy, Senior Divisional Commercial Manager, Bengaluru Division, confirmed that all the platform ticket counters operated by the Division have been closed.

Shivananda flyover to be ready by April

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

BRUHAT Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Commissioner N Manjunatha Prasad on Monday said that the steel flyover at Shivananda Circle will be completed by April next year.

There were some legal hurdles, which have been cleared, and contractors and engineers directed to complete work at the earliest, he told reporters during an early morning inspection drive to take stock of delayed flyover works in West and Central Bengaluru on Monday. He was accompanied by BBMP Administrator Gaurav Gupta.

The flyover, which connects to Crescent Road, stretches for half a kilometre. Work has been delayed due to the pandemic.

Prasad and Gupta visited the much-delayed eight-lane Okalipuram corridor and flyover project along West of Chord Road.

This was the second time the administrator visited Okalipuram flyover since taking charge. The flyover is also a matter of concern for the civic body as a portion had to be recently closed for more than a week to drain out rainwater that had submerged the road. Diversions due to the flyover also made commute a difficult and time-consuming exercise.

Commuters point out that water stagnates below the flyover after every downpour, making it impossible for motorists to navigate the stretch. Autorickshaws refuse to take passengers through this stretch during rain.

The commissioner and administrator asked engineers to coordinate with the Railways and Water Board to speed up work. However, the engineers were unable to commit to any deadline for completion of the eight-lane corridor work. The engineers said the Railways have to complete Tumakuru railway track-box construction, after which the rest can be done.

RETREAT AT WORK

FOR TECHIES, IT'S WORK FROM HOME-STAYS

SUBHASH CHANDRA N S @Gokarna

IT'S no longer work from home for techies, but it is work from homestays.

Following the relaxation in the lockdown norms, Gokarna town in Uttara Kannada has opened up quietly for them. Software engineers from across the country, who were so far restricted to their houses—working from home—have found homestays in the holy town a better option with its serene environs and a better net connectivity to work and rest.

Aashish Garg and his wife Palak, the techie couple, are at a homestay in Gokarna. After the day's work, they prefer to explore the places here, especially the beaches. Aashish is not the only techie, as there are many of his ilk, who prefer to work from homestays here.

With no sign of foreign tourists making a comeback at least in the near future, the techies who were restricted to their houses since several months have found Gokarna as a stress-buster — a getaway place — away from the pandemic which is at its peak in cities.

"The travel trend is changing after Covid-19. We are getting more enquiries from techies from Bengaluru and Mumbai. Their primary demand is better internet connectivity and Gokarna has a better speed. We need to invest and upgrade the internet facility to suit their needs," said Rajeev, who owns Vedic Village homestay.

"The techies are a ray of hope for homestays in Gokarna, which were shut for months due to the pandemic," he added.

Maniraj from Mandala village said, "Gokarna offers a lot for tourists — the forest, mountains and beach, temple and cultural heritage. A majority of the 70 per cent of those who have occupied homestays here are techies. Enquiries are also pouring in from Maharashtra, Andhra Pradesh, Goa and Telangana states," he said.

> We are getting more enquiries from techies from Bengaluru and Mumbai. Their primary demand is better internet connectivity and Gokarna has a better speed
> Rajeev, owner, Vedic Village homestay

The homestay owners are not sure whether foreign tourists will be returning anytime soon, but for now they are relying much on techies to make some windfall.

The town has a very good internet facility and several homestay owners are now investing on routers and high speed internet to ensure a better business.

29th September: The impact of fiery Sagittarius is everywhere, which could be good news for all Sagittarians - up to a point. If you live with one of these fabulous people, then get ready for changes. But you must also be prepared for them to start giving you orders! It's an old Sagittarian trick: do as I say, not do as I do!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
No doubt you have had your fill of criticism, complaints and broken promises. You do appear to be carrying the cares of the world on your shoulders. Actually, the real burden does seem to be lighter than you imagine. It's just that you've been making heavy weather of it.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
There is a slight chance that your financial affairs have been, or are about to be, thrown into utter confusion by circumstances beyond your control. However, look closely and you'll see that in fact you have been liberated from a major burden.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You may have swallowed a tall story, but I don't think anyone should laugh at you for being gullible. The fact is that fiction can have more meaning and pertinence than fact. People who refuse to recognise this condemn themselves to a grey, drab life.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You can stand your ground and continue to play for time. You see, only when you are absolutely convinced that a major alteration in the pattern of your personal life is to your advantage should you agree to discuss a peace treaty. And then you can meet a partner halfway.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
This is not really a time for self-reflection, but I'd still say that if you are prepared to reassess your personal values, you will do yourself a great deal of good. Watch out for emotional outbursts from people who just can't see how good life really is.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You will have to work hard to keep your emotions in check, but the question is - why shouldn't other people see how you feel? One key to happiness at the moment is spontaneity: I think that children and younger relations can teach you a lot about pleasure.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Sixty percent of your major planetary patterns are featuring fundamental issues, aligned with the foundations of your chart and rooting you to the spot. Don't feel frustrated by other people's demands, but do appreciate the fact that you are wanted.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Why do other people imagine that they have a claim on your time and talents? Perhaps it's because you've sent out the wrong signals in the past. Now is the time to clarify your thoughts and issue clear proclamations for the future. Others need to know what you think.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Your solar chart is looking so utterly business like at the moment, that you ought to be on firm ground when discussing long-term investments. You'll have a chance to make family choices next week, but you may have to relinquish some of the limelight.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Stunning planetary aspects may relate to your personal life, or they could refer to your professional activities. What is crucially important though is the exciting way they encourage you to exceed your personal best. I don't think anything can hold you back now.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You ought to be enjoying some kind of recognition for all your hard work, but for some reason everyone's good intentions seem to be fog-bound. Other people's statements may be entirely different from what they mean, and you may have to figure out a strange emotional puzzle.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You are extremely fortunate in that you have a remarkable capacity to slide away from trouble. Some people would call you slippery, but how wrong they are: I'd describe you as eminently sensible. Right now, you're mulling over the past, getting ready to make a major choice next week.

Free Covid shot only for high-risk populations?

A majority of citizens — over 90 crore — will have to pay for vaccines from their own pockets

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @ New Delhi

INDIA'S expert group on Covid-19 vaccine administration has recommended government sponsored vaccination for only high-risk populations that include the elderly above 50 years of age, those with co-morbidities and frontline workers, this newspaper has learnt.

In other words, a majority of the citizens — over 90 crore — will have to pay for vaccines from their own pockets.

The committee has suggested an antibody test driven immunisation plan under which even those within the vulnerable group will be given a vaccine only if they do not have antibodies against SARS-CoV 2, top sources in the panel said.

"The serosurveys conducted in many metros so far have indicated that nearly 25-30% of the population is already exposed to SARS-CoV-2 and by the time an effective medicine arrives, this proportion of exposed population in most parts could be much higher," a senior member of the group said.

"In such a scenario it will not be required to vaccinate people with antibodies," he said. "The government will also pay for the vaccination of only those who are the most vulnerable and also only those among this group who test negative for SARS Cov-2 antibodies," the member said. Another member confirmed it, saying that while the government still does not have a firm figure or database of those who qualify as the "most vulnerable", an exercise is already underway to identify and prioritise them.

JSS HOSPITAL LIKELY TO START HUMAN TRIALS OF NOVAVAX

30-40 cr people may need priority vaccination

The vaccination plan prepared by a group under Dr V K Paul, member (health) Niti Aayog and co-chaired by Union health secretary Rajesh Bhushan has been sent to the PMO for approval. 30-40 crore people may need priority vaccination.

KARTHIK K K @ Mysuru

MYSURU'S JSS Hospital is likely to start phase 2 and 3 trials of the Covid-19 vaccine candidate, Novavax. The hospital consented to carry out the trial after Pune-based Serum Institute of India approached the hospital, adding another feather to its cap.

B Suresh, pro-chancellor of JSS Academy of Higher Education and Research (JSSAHER) told TNIE, "A proposal came from the Serum Institute of India to carry out clinical trials for Phase 2 and 3 of vaccine candidate Novavax. We have given our consent. The formalities are going on and we will start the trial once we receive approval from the Indian Council of Medical Research."

The hospital was the only institute from Karnataka that was selected for the clinical trial of Covishield, a WHO-approved vaccine developed by Oxford University and British-Swedish multinational pharmaceutical company AstraZeneca.

The Serum Institute of India, which has partnered with Oxford University, supplied the vaccines to JSSAHER for trials, and the volunteers received their first doses as part of the phase 2 human trials in August.

Neglecting safety norms pushes up positivity rate

DR G Gururaj, epidemiologist from NIMHANS, said more contact between people, neglect of safety measures like masks, social distancing, increased surveillance and testing is leading to increasing positivity rate in the state.

Munish Moudgil, in charge, state Covid war room, said at the beginning of September, 19 districts had an increasing positivity rate. In comparison, at the end of September, 14 districts had reduced positivity rate, seven districts maintained the same or similar positivity rate and nine districts showed increasing rates

"The districts with increasing positivity rate have to actively increase testing. Even other districts should continue to keep testing as per target to quickly control of Covid," he said.

The active cases in the state touched 1 lakh on September 10 and is the highest until September 27 at 1,04,724 patients. The number of times the growth rate of active cases has crossed 2 per cent and 3 per cent is more in September than in August.

The recovery rate. which was improving significantly since July, touching 81.05 per cent on September 22, has declined marginally to 80 per cent and remained stagnant from September 25 to 27 to slightly improve to 80.64 per cent on Monday.

Dr Gururaj said, "We cannot decide on the reason based on day-to-day figures."

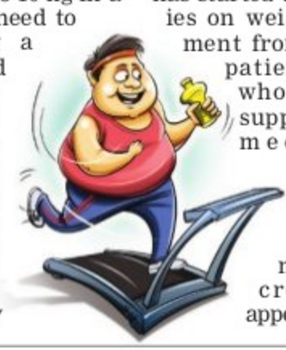
Recovered patients just can't stop eating

IFFATH FATHIMA @ Bengaluru

OBESITY is the new after-effect that doctors are noticing in patients who have recovered from Covid-19. Till now many were facing issues like heart complications, chronic respiratory diseases, fatigue etc post-recovery.

Health professionals say that after patients have recovered from Covid-19, they tend to eat more food, mainly junk stuff. And with little or no physical activity, they have been putting on about 10kg and are seeking the help of nutritionists or dieticians to lose weight.

Dr Mahesh Chikkachannappa, Senior Consultant, General Laparoscopic and Bariatric Surgery, said he has been getting two cases daily of recovered patients with obesity. "In order to boost their immunity, people are ending up eating fat and oil-rich foods and they tend to put on 8-10 kg in a month. They need to start eating a healthy diet and perform indoor exercises. Many fitness apps and YouTube workout videos are there to help them. This will also help in staying away from binge watching, as we are even seeing cases of digital addiction among the recovered patients."



Dr Dinesh V Kamath, Senior Consultant physician, Apollo Hospitals, Seshadripuram, said many who have lost their taste and smell during the Covid period ended up binge eating. "We advise the patients to stay isolated for 14 days post recovery. This is when they are eating more and gaining weight. We are seeing many recovered patients in the age group 40-60 years putting on weight. They say they have been overeating. Those with comorbidities like diabetes are seeing an increase in cholesterol and blood sugar levels, resulting in weight gain. If this continues, we will see serious medical problems in six months."

Pavithra N Raj, Chief Dietician, Columbia Asia Referral Hospital Yeshwanthpur, said she has started to get enquiries on weight management from recovered patients. "Those who are taking supplements and medications might put on weight. The intake of supplements can increase their appetites."

YEDIYURAPPA OFF TO DELHI AGAIN, SAYS CABINET REJIG SOON

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

WITH the legislative session coming to an end, lobbying for ministerial berths has resumed, and Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa appears ready to rejig his cabinet. He is set to make a second trip to New Delhi in less than two weeks to discuss the cabinet and aspirants with the BJP central leadership.

Yediyurappa told reporters on Monday that he will visit New Delhi in the next 2-3 days to finalise expansion plans. "There is no problem any more for cabinet expansion. I will expand the cabinet soon," he said.

On his last visit earlier in September, Yediyurappa had met Prime Minister Narendra Modi and BJP National President Jagat Prakash Nadda on the same issue. Yediyurappa had claimed that he wanted to expand the cabinet before the session, but was awaiting the central leadership's decision.

With Home Minister Amit Shah resuming work, Yediyurappa's next Delhi trip is likely to be more fruitful, and concrete decisions are likely to be taken.

By elevating Tourism Minister C T Ravi as National General Secretary,a the leadership has made way for him to be dropped from the cabinet and a new face to be accommodated.

Hectic lobbying is on, with aspirants knocking on the doors of Yediyurappa, State Unit Chief Nalin Kumar Kateel and central BJP leaders. MLCs R Shankar and MTB Nagaraj are sure to be accommodated in the cabinet, while H Vishwanath's ministerial berth is still in contention. MLC CP Yogeshwar, MLAs Umesh Katti, Sunil Kumar, Basanagouda Patil Yatnal, Arvind Limbavali, Poornima K and Mahesh Kumathalli are anticipating being inducted into the cabinet, while ministers Shashikala Jolle, Kota Srinivas Poojari, CT Ravi and Deputy Chief Minister Laxman Savadi are likely to face the axe.

Cong misleading farmers on land bills, says BSY

Will tour state to create awareness; asks farmers to wait for 6 months, see results

ANUSHA RAVI @Bengaluru

ON a day when farmers in the state called for a state-wide bandh, Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa said farmers are being misled with wrong information. He said he would go on a state-wide tour and meet farmers personally to create awareness on the amendments to farm and land bills.

"Congress and a few farmer leaders have conspired and are holding protests against the farm bills. I am a farmer's son and have come to power with the support of farmers. These laws were brought into effect after much thought and will give independence and freedom to farmers to sell their crop at a price that they fix. They can sell it to APMCs too, it's their choice," Yediyurappa said in his first response to the agitating farmers. He appealed to farmer union leaders to discuss their concerns with him after they finish their agitation.

"I appeal to my farmers to wait for six months and watch how the reforms turn out to be favourable for them. Under the land reforms too, nobody will be allowed to sell land belonging to SC/ST farmers and lands of small and marginal farmers will be protected," he said, adding that the reforms will allow some 18 to 20 lakh acre dry lands in the state to be used for industrial purposes that will generate employment. "With these reforms, anyone can take up agriculture. Irrigated lands will be used only for farming. Dry lands can be used for setting up industries," he added.

Listing out various pro-farmer measures taken by his government as well as the Narendra Modi-led Union government, Yediyurappa said the Congress was deliberately misleading people against the reforms that their leaders have been pushing for since decades.

"APMCs are riddled with middlemen who cheat farmers. I speak from my own experience as a farmer who sold his produce at APMC," the CM said, adding that his talks with farmer unions leaders on Friday failed because they had already decided to protest without considering discussions. "At least 85 out of 100 farmers will realise the benefits of the reforms. I will tour the state and explain it to them personally," the CM said, adding that his government had reduced APMC cess from 1.5% to 0.5%.

Congress seeks Guv's intervention, repeal of bills

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AS farmers across Karnataka took to the streets to protest against the Central and state governments over the much-debated farm bills and amendments to land reforms, APMC and labour laws, the opposition Congress extended its support to the protest and sought the Governor's intervention.

A delegation of senior Congress leaders, comprising AICC General Secretary in charge of Karnataka Randeep Singh Surjewala, state Congress President DK Shivakumar, former Chief Minister and Opposition Leader Siddaramaiah, senior leaders Mallikarjun Kharge and SR Patil, met Governor Vajubhai Vala and sought his intervention to withdraw the Land Reforms Act Amendment Bill, Amendment to APMC Act and Industrial Disputes Act.

Amendments to Land Reforms and APMC Acts were passed in the assembly during the session that concluded on Saturday, but were stuck in the Council. The government has to again issue ordinances. "We appealed to the governor to reject the ordinances," Siddaramaiah said, after meeting Governor Vajubhai Vala. "The Governor assured us he would look into our demands," he said.

Surjewala, who took part in the protest, termed the amendments "draconian" and urged the Chief Minister to withdraw the "anti-farmer and anti-labourer" amendments. In a memorandum, Congress leaders expressed concern that changes in the Land Reforms Act would bring back the 'zamindari system' as non-agriculturalists, corporate companies and the rich would buy land from weak farmers. The farmers will be at the mercy of private businessmen as amendments to the APMC Act will open up the market, enabling corporates to purchase agricultural produce directly, Congress leaders stated.

APMC yards across state deserted

APMC yards were deserted in many parts of the State. Bike rallies, demonstrations, sit-ins, rallies, effigy burning and stalling of public transport by farmers and pro-Kannada organisations were witnessed in Ramanagara, Mandya, Mysuru, Chamarajanagar, Kolar, Chikkaballapur, Tumakuru, Ballari, Raichur, Chitradurga, Kalaburagi, Yadgir, Vijayapura, Bagalkot, Bidar, Belagavi, Uttara Kannada, Udupi, Dharwad and Davangere.

"The new bills are dangerous to farmers. Dropping onions, oilseeds, pulses and potatoes from the list of essential commodities without MSP is a total handover to corporates. The government claims to have given farmers the freedom to sell their produce anywhere. Only those who haven't read the APMC Act can speak like that. APMC law already allows farmers to sell anywhere as long as they are verified farmers. Narendra Modi is a liar," said Kodihalli Chandrashekhar, president, Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha and Harisu Sene.

MYSURU

The bandh was near total in Mysuru, especially in the CBD areas, where many shops remained closed and bus services were cancelled. APMC also remained shut for the day. The protesters who assembled near the Mysuru Palace were detained and removed from the spot by the police. Congress leaders too held a sit-in protest.

MANDYA

Holding sickles and spades, carrying heavy stones on their heads, riding bullock carts on roads, wearing masks with the message 'Withdraw New Land Reforms Act' and performing Urulu Seve (rolling on the ground) under the scorching sun, farmers in the Old Mysuru region took to unique ways of protest against farm bills. Chamarajanagar and Mandya saw a mixed response to the bandh call.

BELAGAVI

The wholesale vegetable market wore a deserted look with not a single farmer turning up to sell vegetables on Monday. Farmer and Kannada organisations took out a rally from Rani Channamma Circle to Suvarna Vidhana Soudha. A mock funeral procession was taken out on the National Highway-4. Some farmers were detained and later released at Hirebagewadi.

HASSAN

The police arrested 49 workers of Karnataka Rajya Raita Sangha and Congress MLC MA Gopalaswamy in Hassan. Arkalgudu JDS MLA A T Ramaswamy, holding a poster which read that the Yediyurappa government is anti-farmer, sat on a one-man protest outside the taluk office in Arkalgud town.

VIJAYAPURA

Raising slogans, farmers and members of other organisations blocked traffic for an hour on the National Highway 50 near Nidagundi. With the highways too blocked, NEKRTC in Vijayapura and Bagalkot were forced to suspend the services temporarily. But hotels and other business establishments remained open.

TUMAKURU

Protesters locked horns with the police after permission for a bike rally was denied. Monday witnessed a rare camaraderie with all factions of Raitha Sangha, DSS, and also Pro-Kannada organisations taking part in joint protests.

SHIVAMOGGA

Protest rallies were taken out in Shivamogga, while some farmers were detained at Bedara Hosahalli when they blocked Shivamogga-Harihara Road. Bandh evoked a partial response in Chikkamagaluru district. Most autorickshaws and taxis stayed off the road and shops remained closed. Bandh was peaceful in twin districts of Davangere and Chitradurga. Congress leader Basavaraj Shivaganga was arrested when he and his followers tried to block the Pune-Bengaluru national highway.

KOLAR

The bandh was total in several taluks, including Bagepalli, Malur and Gouribidanur. When protesters locked up the tahsildar's office in Gouribidanur, the police rushed to the spot within ten minutes and dispersed the gathering. In several places torchlight procession was taken out. Twenty-two protesters were detained and later released.

KODAGU

The bandh call received a mixed response across Kodagu. While parts of North Kodagu were unaffected, shops and other businesses were shut for nearly two hours in South Kodagu.

DAKSHINA KANNADA

There was a lukewarm response to the bandh call in undivided DK and Udupi districts. Members of farmer organisations protested in front of Mini Vidhana Soudha in Mangaluru, while several protesters were arrested in Udupi for forcing private operators not to ply buses.

KALABURAGI

NEKSRTC withdrew its service till afternoon after protesters sat on a dharna in front of Central Bus Stand in Kalaburagi. The movement of autorickshaws and other vehicles was not affected. Some shops were partially closed.

Cops detain protesters, divert traffic in B'luru

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TRAFFIC snarls left the city in a twist in the early part of Monday as protesters hit the streets, in response to the Karnataka Bandh called by farmers' organisations, pro-Kannada activists, Dalit and workers' unions.

However, police acted swiftly to detain protesters and divert traffic as the rallies swelled in size, and the protesters were restricted to the Town Hall junction. Traffic was unhindered for the remaining part of the day, markets and shops were open, and life went on as usual.

The protests began around 6.30am, with at least 5,000 farmers and members of unions joining in. They gathered at Mysuru Bank Circle, Maurya Circle and Town Hall junction, leaving commuters stuck in jams on JC Road, KR Circle and Nrupatunga Road.

Huge jams threatened to throw life out of gear at KR Puram and Sumanahalli junctions, and central parts of the city, with rallyists forcing some commercial establishments to close for the day. Police took thousands of farmers and protesters into preventive custody as they tried to block roads.

Karnataka Rakshana Vedike activists barged inside Sangolli Rayanna Railway Station and Kempegowda International Airport to protest the bills. Over 50 organisations extended their support for the bandh, and some blocked highways and toll gates.

Detained protesters who were forced to sit inside BMTC buses, video recorded and uploaded their accounts online. They shouted slogans against the government for being locked inside buses for two hours. Some farmers removed shirts and rolled on the roads, threw seeds on Outer Ring Road in Sumanahalli and set fire to tyres, while raising slogans.

Manjula, a farmer from Haveri district, said, "We have been protesting peacefully in Freedom Park for a week, and no minister came to hear us out." About 2,000 farmers were taken into preventive custody at Hesaraghatta, Tumakuru Road, Malleswaram, Yelahanka, Devanahalli and Thalaghattapura.

Trucks, goods vehicles, autorickshaws, cabs and other services kept off roads till evening. Hotels, restaurants and eateries, however, remained open. Bengaluru Police Commissioner Kamal Pant told TNIE, "There were no untoward incidents and about 1,200 protesters were taken into preventive custody."

Vatal rides a donkey

Vatal Nagaraj, president of Kannada Chaluvali Vatal Paksha, on Monday rode a donkey around Majestic, wearing a Mysuru peta. "I have special respect for them. I prefer to use donkeys during protests." Around 3pm, police took him into preventive custody and released him later.

BJP begins groundwork for Belagavi bypoll

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @Belagavi

Just a few days after the demise of Union Minister of State for Railways Suresh Angadi, the BJP has begun hunting for a suitable candidate for the by-election. It is likely to be conducted within the next six months. The party is keen to field a member of Angadi's family even as a number of party leaders from Belagavi region are keen on contesting. A top party leader told TNIE that the party would not like to gamble by fielding candidates other than Angadi's kin. State BJP president Nalinkumar Kateel will visit Angadi's family on Tuesday to pay his tribute to the leader. He is also expected to hold a meeting of the party leaders in Belagavi to discuss on the selection of a candidate for the bypoll. With a large chunk of voters in Belagavi LS constituency being Marathi, the BJP will have to pick a candidate popular among both the Kannada and Marathi sections if it decides to field a candidate other than Angadi's family member. The front-runner, according to sources, could be Shankargouda Patil, Karnataka's representative in New Delhi.

To redress grievances from public within its jurisdiction, the Bangalore Customs Zone has set up a dedicated helpline number which also serves as a WhatsApp number. Public can reach out on 98400-29701. Documents or other information can be sent to ccu-cusblr@nic.in

CCB drug probe stumbles on flesh racket

Under guise of high-end parties, hosts had sourced women, drugs to entertain guests: Police

BALA CHAUHAN @Bengaluru

THE Central Crime Branch (CCB) has unearthed an alleged "cross-country drugs and prostitution racket" in the ongoing investigation into the illegal drugs case, top official sources told The New Indian Express.

"The police have reportedly seized critical evidence of drug abuse and prostitution in some high-end parties that were being thrown to select guests strictly on invitation basis. Under the guise of parties, the venues were being used for prostitution and drug abuse. In some parties, the host and 'event managers' had flown in women from overseas to entertain guests as paid service and contraband drugs were sold at the venue at premium prices," he added.

"Some of these high-end parties have been hosted at premium star hotels. Whether the hotels were complicit in these illegal activities is a matter of investigation," said the officer.

It is reliably learnt that the CCB has collected a lot of digital evidence from the emails, WhatsApp chats, call data records (CDRS) of the accused, who have been arrested and are currently in judicial custody.

"The CCB has arrested two Africans — Loum Pepper Samba and Ossy Philips — who are reportedly emerging as the main source of contraband drugs to the accused," the officer added.

"It is a layered network of people, who are part of the cartel of drugs and prostitution," said top official sources.

Sources say the CCB has gathered digital evidence against the accused | EXPRESS

On Monday, the CCB submitted "critical" evidence in a sealed cover in the ongoing investigation into the narcotic drugs case to the Special NDPS Court during the hearing of the bail plea of Ragini Dwivedi and Sanjjanaa Galrani and Rahul Thonse. The court has rejected the bail plea of all the three.

Meanwhile, sources told this newspaper that they have "specific clues" on Aditya Alva – son of former JD (S) leader late Jeevaraj Alva and brother-in-law of Bollywood actor Vivek Oberoi — and Shivaprakash Chappi, who are wanted in the case and continue to be absconding.

High Court disposes of petition seeking to appoint SIT to investigate drugs cases

Bengaluru: The Karnataka High Court on Monday disposed of a PIL filed by a city-based activist and advocate seeking directions to the state government to appoint a Special Investigation Team (SIT) to probe cases involving high-profile people in the drugs racket. A division bench comprising Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Ashok S Kinagi disposed of the petition, saying that a vague prayer was made by the petitioner without pointing out a specific case which required an SIT probe. Contending that there were a large number of accidents that involved high-profile people in the state from 2017 till date due to consumption of drugs, especially in Bengaluru Urban and Rural districts, petitioner Geetha Misra praised the Central Crime Branch for investigation in a case registered over drugs recently, but also said that a representation was submitted to the state government requesting to appoint an SIT but it was not considered. ENS

Bail pleas of Sanjjanaa, Ragini, 3 others rejected

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Special Court for NDPS cases on Monday rejected bail to actresses Ragini Dwivedi and Sanjjanaa Galrani, and another accused Rahul Thonse in the Sandalwood drugs case.

The anticipatory bail pleas filed by two other absconding accused, Shivaprakash and Vinay Kumar, were also dismissed by the court.

The court had reserved the order on the bail petitions for Monday. When the petitions came up for hearing, the judge GM Sheenappa dismissed the petitions, rejecting bail to the accused.

While dismissing the petitions, the court observed that granting bail to the accused at this stage would hamper the ongoing probe in the case. "The prosecution has submitted that the investigation of the case is not yet completed. The police are yet to collect some evidence, both material and digital. Also, there are chances that the accused, if enlarged on bail, would tamper with the evidence and influence witnesses and hamper the probe. There are a few more accused involved and they would be alerted by the accused in custody if granted bail," the court observed, before rejecting bail to Ragini, Sanjjanaa and Thonse.

Sanjjanaa Galrani

Ragini Dwivedi

The defence counsel representing the accused have decided to approach the Karnataka High Court and challenge the order.

Kannada film actor Ragini Dwivedi was arrested on September 4 by the Central Crime Branch, after she appeared before the investigation officer for enquiry in the case. She was the first actor to be arrested in the case, while Sanjjanaa Galrani was arrested on September 8, following a police raid on her residence the same day. Both are currently held at Bengaluru Central Prison in Parappana Agrahara.

Students appear for the CLAT 2020 in Bengaluru on Monday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

LAW STUDENTS TO PAY JUST 50% FEES DURING ADMISSION

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA
@ Bengaluru

THE Consortium of National Law Universities has resolved that instead of collecting a fee for the entire year which is the usual practice, only 50% of the fee shall be paid at the time of admission in various National Law Universities, in view of the Covid-19 hardship.

Candidates will be given the option to revise their preferences of NLUs if they so desire.

The announcement by the consortium comes on the heels of the entrance test CLAT 2020, which was held across 300 centres in the country on Monday by the Consortium of National Law Universities. It was held across 18 centres in the State on Monday, amid the Karnataka Bandh called by farmers and other associations.

Of the 75,183 candidates who applied for CLAT 2020, 78.9 per cent appeared for the examination. This number was lower than for the standalone entrance examination NLAT, held by National Law School of India University (NLSIU) earlier this month. NLAT had 94 per cent attendance for its undergraduate admissions, and 97 per cent admission for postgraduate admissions. The examination, however, was invalidated by the Supreme Court and aspirants to the top law college were mandated to write the CLAT.

Central observers appointed by the Consortium have not reported any technical glitch in Monday's exam. Students were given a chance to review their answers, and no negative marks were given for not attempting any question, said a note by the Consortium.

The number of questions for CLAT (UG) was also reduced from 200 to 150. This year, CLAT was comprehension-based – students were given paragraphs and questions were based on subjects mentioned in the paragraphs and related context or information. To help students familiarise themselves with the new pattern of CLAT, a number of mocks were conducted and for the first-time, videos were uploaded on the Consortium website, giving them tips on how to prepare for CLAT 2020.

The test, which was originally scheduled in May, was put off to September 28. Supposed to be done in pen and paper mode, it was conducted online due to Covid-19.

All test centres were provided with isolation labs, where candidates who had high fever or other symptoms of Covid-19 were accommodated and allowed to write the test. In isolation labs, invigilators were required to don PPE kits. Fortunately, very few insolation rooms were used, said the Consortium in a note.

AIADMK CM candidate to be spelt out on Oct 7

At executive meet, party leaves decision on announcement to top leaders Palaniswami, Panneerselvam

T MURUGANANDHAM @ Chennai

THE executive committee meeting of the AIADMK on Monday discussed about the party's chief ministerial candidate for the 2021 Assembly elections, but left the decision of making that announcement to the top two leaders — Edappadi K Palaniswami and O Panneerselvam. AIADMK deputy coordinator KP Munusamy said both the leaders would announce the chief ministerial candidate for the AIADMK-led alliance on October 7.

However, Munusamy's statement came as a surprise to the party's office-bearers when he said the leaders would announce the "alliance's chief ministerial candidate", instead of saying the AIADMK.

2021 ASSEMBLY POLLS

Chief Minister Edappadi K Palaniswami arriving at the AIADMK headquarters in Chennai on Monday | R SATISH BABU

Usually, the AIADMK leads the alliance in Tamil Nadu and declares one of its members as the chief ministerial candidate.

Some of the functionaries on Monday wondered whether the party should hold talks with its alliance partners before announcing its chief ministerial candidate.

According to sources, the earlier meetings had focussed on key resolutions. But Monday's meeting that went on for around four and a half hours discussed the leadership issue after School Education Minister KA Sengottaiyan reportedly said that there was confusion among the party's cadre at the grassroots level about the chief ministerial candidate and that it should be finalised.

Following this, more than 15 Ministers and senior functionaries spoke about the need to finalise the candidate at the meeting, leading to lengthy discussions.

Veteran leader, Panruti S Ramachandran, said the issue could be taken up for discussion after the constitution of the 11-member steering committee, a move that has been pending for a long time. A number of functionaries interrupted him during his speech.

JCD Prabhakar, organising secretary, intervened and said that the executive committee members may speak on the key resolutions such as the demand on the Centre to release ₹23,763 crore and the party's commitment to the two-language policy, and that there was no need for finalising the chief ministerial candidate now. He asked why the functionaries insisted on both the leaders sorting out the matter today itself. Blowing such issues out of proportion might affect the image of the party, he said.

Following this, Deputy Coordinator R Vaithilingam said the executive committee meeting would be concluded with a vote of thanks.

SCHOLARSHIP GOOF-UP

University trying to fix problem

A couple of months later, when these students returned to Bangalore University for their admissions to third year, they were in for a shock as the university asked them to pay the admission fees. "The students from SC/ST communities receive a scholarship of Rs 40,000 per annum that covers fees such as admission, hostel and examination among others. Only after the necessary deductions that students are given about Rs 14,000 in hand for day-to-day expenses," a student told TNIE.

"But this time, it was a shocker that the university asked us to pay the admission fees," said the student. The amount from the purported PMKSY and MGNREGA schemes is just a fraction of the Rs 40,000 scholarship that they receive. "This is uncalled for, as we are expected to deposit the fees to the finance officer's account in order to get our admit cards," the student added.

Ashok, another student, said students received Rs 3,000 per month for hostel and food, and Rs 750 for incidental expenses. "However, neither was the money used in the hostel during the three months of lockdown, nor were we given that amount," he said.

"Now, they are threatening to deny us our admit cards and convocation if we do not transfer the money that we received in our accounts," he said.

The students took the matter to BU Vice-Chancellor Prof K R Venugopal on Monday. Venugopal told The New Indian Express that the university was trying to get this problem sorted out. He said the problem was specific to law college students and hence their admission deadlines have been extended till the students get their scholarships.

No lockdown, will have strict measures: Pinarayi

KEEP IN MIND

- Hefty fine will be imposed and cases will be charged against those who defy Covid protocol
- Number of people allowed to attend wedding and funeral events will be restricted to 50 and 20 respectively
- Social distancing to be made mandatory at all places

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @T'Puram

IN the wake of the worsening Covid situation, Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan has convened an all-party meeting on Tuesday to discuss ways to arrest the spread of the disease. However, the government is not considering lockdown as a solution to the crisis, Pinarayi said.

The meeting will be held in virtual mode at 4.30 pm and representatives of all major political parties are expected to participate.

"It seems everyone has understood the seriousness of the situation. The government is not in favour of a lockdown. But strict restrictions need to be followed," Pinarayi said when asked whether the all-party meet will discuss the need for a lockdown.

4,538 fresh cases reported on Monday

3,347 recoveries

The Chief Minister said there has been a lackadaisical attitude on the part of some people on using masks and ensuring social distancing. He warned such an attitude would lead to a dangerous situation.

Pinarayi said the all-party meeting has been convened with the purpose of ensuring the support from all in strictly imposing the existing restrictions so as to reduce the spread of the disease.

DEVOTEES TO BE ALLOWED AT SABARIMALA

T'Puram: The high-level meeting chaired by the chief minister on Monday decided to allow devotees for the annual mandalam-makaravilakku pilgrimage in strict adherence to Covid-19 protocol. Kerala's devaswom minister and higher officers will hold discussions with their counterparts in other southern states to devise campaigns on safe pilgrimage.

Not right time to up power tariffs: Experts

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

THE various Escoms (electricity supply companies) in Karnataka have been asking the Karnataka Electricity Regulatory Commission to revise the power tariffs at the earliest. But experts and some senior energy department officials say the good monsoon showers and the pandemic have had a huge impact on the sector and the revision will be a futile exercise.

Experts suggest that the department and KERC instead work on new policies and systemic corrections so that the economy is revived faster.

The KERC usually announces the power tariff revision in March, coming into effect from April, but this year it has been delayed because of the pandemic and the lockdown.

A KERC official said, "For the financial year 2019, Rs 2,295 crore for power purchase was allocated. The revision for power allocation was to be done in May"

While some energy department officials state that it is about time KERC announced the revision, some others point to the legal and financial hurdles. Some others point to the ongoing Appellate Tribunal for Electricity court hearing between KPTCL and KERC for the delay.

Another official, however, pointed that there is a fixed power purchase and supply costs which have to be borne by the Escoms and the other stakeholders, for whom now revision is essential. Power is already being sold at a very cheap rate (Rs 3.55 to Rs 4.20 per unit) to commercial firms, which is becoming a burden.

Experts, however, want to know the buyers the government is keen to tap. M G Prabhakar, power expert from FKCCI, said: "The Escoms could be suffering a revenue deficit, but where are the buyers? The biggest buyers, commercial units, were closed for five months and their revival will take over a year. So hiking power costs will only affect the government more. At this time, systemic corrections in the department and new policy decisions should be chalked out so that industries which are on the revival path benefit and so does the power sector. Looking at industries as an indicator of growth, consumption, demand and generation must be channelised."

> Monsoon showers have been good and so the demand for power from the agricultural sector is not much. There is also good renewable energy generation. Thus revision of power tariff could be a futile exercise at the moment

KURUKSHETRA LOOMS AS FIGHT AGAINST FARM LAWS INTENSIFIES

The Centre is evidently convinced about its agriculture reforms, offered as a way to streamline India's post-harvest economics and incentivise farming as never before. The ruling BJP has even shed one of its oldest allies, the Shiromani Akali Dal, for its sake. It also seems determined to weather the storm of farmer agitations across states, particularly in the grain bowl provinces of Punjab, Haryana and western UP that are heavily dependent on state procurement and MSP.

It is undeniable that subsequent regimes have been grappling with these reforms, and saw one solution to farm distress in the entry of market forces, ending state monopoly, eliminating middlemen, corrupt APMCs and the local political ecosystems they harboured. The declared intent is to provide farmers freedom to choose buyers—whether traders, corporates or agro-processing companies. At present, the state procures and stocks up in godowns, where grains often rot. As for cash crops or vegetables, farmers without cold storage facilities often have to dump their produce or sell them dirt-cheap. But a large section of the main stakeholders, the farmers, seem equally convinced the three new interrelated laws actually take away their protection and legal rights, without bringing the profit they are touted to. They would rather have state protection than be left to the vagaries of the market. With no stock limit binding private players, now they can hoard as much as they want. Plus, contract farming has also been brought in. Small and marginal farmers, in fact, fear extinction.

The government vows neither APMCs nor the MSP system will be dismantled—verbal assurances with no force of legal writ, as the opposition has demanded, because it would defy the logic of the new triple legislation. The government could agree to some alterations, including not leaving disputes to the fair-mindedness of some civil servant. Else, Kurukshetra looms.

THE NEW NORMAL FOR SPORTS FANS

When you tune in to watch a live sporting event in 2020, the music is different. You hear artificial crowd music piped in by the broadcaster, to compensate for the loss of actual crowds. That, however, is slowly changing as organisers, with guidelines from the respective governments, try to bring fans back into the stadiums. It has already happened in a few events, including at the French Open, where 1,000 fans have been allowed to matches every day. Leagues in the US have already brought back fans and it's the same in select football leagues across Europe.

Yes, the fans are back, but the usual fervour will definitely be missing. There will be no din, no atavistic rituals of high-pitched songs, anthems and crying out loud or collective wild celebrations—because crowds will be sparse, with social distancing and masks on faces. The match-going experience will not be the same for a while. An early glimpse of it was offered by the U-turn in the lead up to the French Open, keeping in mind that the pandemic is going nowhere for the time being. Only three weeks ago, the French Open organisers had legislated for over 12,500 fans. With the second wave in Europe very visible over the last few weeks, that was swiftly cut to 1,000. In the US, the NFL had a socially distanced capacity crowd of 16,500, while some football matches have witnessed over 15,000 fans, including the UEFA Super Cup between Bayern and Sevilla in Budapest last week. On the contrary, when it comes to the hugely popular English Premier League, the UK government had indicated it would start pilot projects in October, but this has now been put on the back burner due to the rising coronavirus cases. The authorities have said it is very possible that sporting events would continue to be held without fans, the livelihood of every sport, for the next six months. It's still a very dynamic situation and fans will continue to be guided by external factors till a vaccine is in mass production.

There is a lesson in this for when India brings back sporting events—the earliest could be the Indian Super League in November. If the next part of the unlock allows fans in stadia, organisers need to start planning how best to accommodate them. After all, there is only so long that you can continue to keep playing artificial music.

At a time when schools and colleges have adapted to online teaching and learning, are physical campuses relevant anymore?

WHY THE CAMPUS IS FOREVER

AMIT BANDRE

I think I am a teacher at heart. I just completed 20 years of teaching as a Visiting Faculty at the Indian School of Business. Add another six years of teaching prior to that across business schools in India and the US, and that's a quarter of a century of teaching at the PG level.

My 26th year of teaching saw my PG classes witness tumult. Physical classes were just not possible and I had to adapt, just as every student did. Online classes became the new norm. In the beginning, everyone struggled with the new way of doing things, but things eventually fell into place. Today, as PG campuses across India remain closed even as I write, online teaching and online learning is the new way of life. Many predict a fast trot for online teaching and learning. Quite correctly.

The question then arises: Are campuses relevant at all? Will campuses really revive themselves? Will they survive at all? Isn't online learning a great way to learn?

Even as the debate rages, school children across India, and indeed in many parts of the world, have adapted themselves to online classes. Homes have had to invest in desktops, tablets and smartphones, and children all over are now totally attuned to online classes. Just as schools have gone online, tuition teachers have gone online as well. And the world is their market. There is a huge 1:1 teaching and learning market that has emerged over these last six months. Teachers sitting in their homes in Madurai and Mandsaur alike are teaching children in the US and Europe the basics of math and chemistry, at Indian prices. To the teacher, the world has opened up and there is just no time to do much else.

At the level of app-based online learning, ed-tech is booming. Byju's, Toppr, Vedantu and Unacademy have seen their business booming. Online corporate and executive training ed-tech platforms are doing exceedingly well. Add to it the fact that IIMs and ISBs are all up and open, and learning online is the new way of learning.

Back to the old question then. Is the campus really relevant? Let me answer this for education at the PG level first, and let's see if we can draw parallels to the same for every level, be it college or school.

Where does learning happen? Why is a Stanford a Stanford?

Deans and professors who teach all over the world, and students too will testify to the fact that learning is really of two kinds. The first is the obvious subject-immersive teaching and learning, while the second is what I will call peer-immersive learning. One is top-down and the other is lateral.

While subject-immersive learning happens in classrooms, labs and the many breakout groups professors create for their students, peer-immersive learning is what happens in the dorms, the student-villages, the canteens and the many 'addas' students create for themselves. The chats seem informal, but the learning outcomes from these chats are as formal and real as ever. Peer-immersive learning, to that extent, is really the most under-rated reality of them all.

> Learning is really of two kinds. ... While subject-immersive learning happens in classrooms, peer-immersive learning is what happens in the dorms and canteens. The chats seem informal, but the learning outcomes from these chats are as formal and real as ever

I do strongly believe that the campus is forever. Campuses across the world have gone through calamities of every kind over the decades. The current pandemic is but only one such. The base objective of a campus is to get the best of students together in a cohort. A dissimilar cohort even. The idea is to give them a physical home to house their many thoughts and questions. The idea is to equally offer them an opportunity to build networks and relationships that will last well into the future. The idea is to make them sing together, dance together, contribute together and incidentally learn together as well.

While subject-immersive learning can happen out of a book, a case study or through an online class, peer-immersive learning can happen best on a physical campus, structured with its many nooks just for that purpose.

If I am to peek into my classes, I must say that the entire learning of what I teach happens in many stages across many locations. Within the class, there is a theory lecture where students sit together and listen to me even as they listen to one another. What is raised as a query at times is the prime takeaway from the class. Classes are put together and delivered by professors, but that is only a part of it all. Classes are really curated by the students who live in it physically. Teaching and learning is really as contemporary as that specific moment of group-immersive learning.

Learning then happens within a class, in the corridors that lead to those classes, in the physical huddle of students in breakout groups, on the steps to the gymnasium and most certainly within the proverbial campus canteens.

Without a physical campus to live in, thrive in and study at, learning is really not all that complete. And for that very reason, the campus shall thrive. Yes, campuses will be closed for a while, but when they open once again, there is just one way they will go. Forward into the future.

For teachers and students then, there is just one thing to say. You can take me out of the campus, but you can't take the campus out of me. To the forever campus then, one that is as physical as you and I!

DATA-DARK GOVERNANCE IN THE AGE OF AADHAAR

SUSHMITA

Independent researcher and journalist working on forest rights

GODAVAR

Writer and activist curious about use of technology in welfare governance

Answering a question in the Rajya Sabha on September 17, Union Minister of Tribal Affairs Arjun Munda stated that the Covid-19 positivity rate across the 177 districts where tribal communities comprise over 25% of the population was under 3%. There was "no report of major outbreak of the disease in tribal areas", the minister added.

Considering that there are around 60.7 lakh total Covid-19 cases in the country (as of September 28) as against a population of 138 crore, the study seems to suggest that Covid-19 positivity is as much as eight times the nationwide average of 0.44%. For the minister to say that "there is no major outbreak" suggests a wilful blindness to the implications of the data cited. The government's claim is also callous to the reality that most tribal areas lack testing facilities and that healthcare infrastructure in tribal areas continues to be grossly inadequate.

Several studies have highlighted the distress in rural and tribal areas, with lockdown measures, rather than the Covid-19 disease, making it difficult to access social security benefits like rations and pensions. Instead of ensuring nutritional security universally for rural and Adivasi communities, governments continue to push linking Aadhaar numbers to various schemes in order to access basic rights. Even when they have enrolled for an Aadhaar number and linked it to their ration cards, for instance, the official PDS records don't reflect this.

In another response in Parliament, Minister of Labour and Employment Santosh Kumar Gangwar dismissed the question of providing compensations for migrant workers who lost their lives during the pandemic, saying that "the question did not arise" as "no such data was maintained". However, notwithstanding the government's claims, several websites carry meticulously updated data regarding migrant workers, including reasons for their deaths such as being hit or crushed by trucks or buses or trains, asphyxiation after falling in a deep pit, among others. The Health Ministry too took the "no data is available" line when asked about frontline healthcare workers, including ASHAs, who lost their lives either while on duty or in accidents.

The question is whether the government is choosing to deny the data in a desperate attempt to paper over its multiple recent failures, in particular the inability to control the spread of the pandemic. The Member of Parliament Mahua Moitra recently asked, in connection with the PM-CARES Fund, "Emperor, where are your clothes?" The answer for this again is that no data is available.

Reduction of citizens to data points: On 27 September 2010, the first Aadhaar number was issued to Ranjana Sonawane of Tembhli village in Maharashtra. "Ranjana Sonawane is now a 12-digit no.", ran an unconsciously prophetic headline in a newspaper. Almost precisely eight years later, on 26 September 2018, the Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of the Aadhaar project while imposing restrictions on Aadhaar use. An interview published the following day quoted Sonawane as still hoping for better access to government schemes.

> For the government to demand that citizens should part with their data first before expecting 'good governance' is, in effect, reversing the accountability equation

During the Aadhaar hearings in the SC, the petitioners' lawyer posited that a future Bench may comprise "Aadhaar-ed judges whose entire profile from cradle to bench is available to the government", thanks to surveillance enabled by linking Aadhaar to various databases. One of the judges apparently took umbrage at this, something a citizen can hardly do if the government demands her data even as her fundamental rights are threatened. Despite the government's insistence on data collection, it does not focus on addressing the concerns of those disproportionately affected by the pandemic, such as Dalits, Adivasis, women, and sexual and religious minorities.

A darker interpretation of such obfuscation over data has been voiced by many critics of the Aadhaar project over the years, and suggests that data collection for stated public purposes, like ensuring accurate targeting of welfare benefits, is only a façade masking the true intent of "databasing" citizens. This lends new perspective to the government's heartlessness: Every time the government says it lacks data, it creates an excuse for collecting more citizen data.

Thus, the government announces plans to database unorganised sector workers, including migrant workers, using their Aadhaar numbers while denying having information about their plight. An ongoing pandemic, which has been grossly mishandled, offers the perfect backdrop for announcing a National Health ID, on Independence Day no less. Even as governance dissolves into omnishambles, The Aadhaar Authentication for Good Governance (Social Welfare, Innovation, Knowledge) Rules, 2020 are promulgated. As if signalling the government's intent, these Rules prioritise "good governance"—whatever that means—and "preventing leakage of public funds" over "promoting ease of living of residents and enabling better access to services".

The reminder urgently required today is that citizens have the right not to be treated as data points tracked via apps and dashboards as well as the right to demand information, accountability, and transparency from the government. For the government to demand that citizens should part with their data first before expecting "good governance" is, in effect, reversing the accountability equation. The government cannot hide behind lack of data, nor can it hide from data highlighting its failures. More citizens need to echo Moitra and ask for the government's data, if not the Emperor's clothes.

Echoed nation's sentiments

With his fervent appeal at the UN General Assembly for India's permanent membership in the Security Council, Prime Minister Narendra Modi has echoed the sentiments of the nation. Our contribution in sending peacekeeping forces wherever necessary and sending supplies to various countries is laudable. But the crux of our problem is China's veto power.

Fight together for peace

The PM's UNGA address was graceful. Without mentioning China and Pakistan, he exposed the sinister policy of expansionism and terrorism perpetrated by our neighbouring countries and called all peace-loving nations to unite in the fight against this menace.

Don't try to rewrite history

This is with reference to Small minds try to re-make history (Sep 27). The article highlighted how nobody can rewrite history according to their whims and fancies. It is a pity that different political parties are trying to bend historical facts to suit their convenience.

Thomas Matthew, Muvattupuzha

Facts cannot be erased

History can be tampered with for brief periods, but facts cannot be erased and will come to the fore in a matter of time. Trying to project history in a particular way is not right, as people must know true facts about what has been good and bad for mankind.

Elizabeth Koshy, Pathanamthitta

Is this version correct?

The article is based on the premise that whatever has been put out as India's history and added to the school syllabus is gospel fact and should not be questioned. We do not know if this version of history is the 'correct' one that must be preserved at all costs. For instance, what about the many South Indian empires that get little or no mention in history textbooks?

Informed democracy

This is with reference to Let's build an informed democracy (Sep 28). The article's suggestion about an informed democracy is desirable. But public information about government spending alone will in no way address the problems of the underprivileged or the digital divide until there is someone bold enough to implement corrective measures.

Don't open schools now

Despite India being one of the countries most affected due to Covid, some states have reopened schools and colleges. Though there are strict guidelines to be followed, now is not a good time to reopen schools. Many students may not be able to make proper arrangements and thus not attend them. It could also lead to many deaths.

We need to get the Covid vaccine right the first time: Prof Gupta

POLITICIANS lack the will to allocate funds for public healthcare because it is a costly and long-drawn affair and one can only hope that the Covid-19 crisis will teach them why they need an investment in science, Professor Ravindra K Gupta said in conversation with author and senior journalist Kaveree Bamzai in TNIE Expressions, a series of live webcasts with people who matter.

Global collaboration between scientists to work on the vaccine and understanding the virus is reassuring and will take science ahead by quite a few steps, said Gupta who was recently named in Time's list of the 100 most influential people of 2020.

"The global cooperation has been unprecedented. The efforts behind the vaccine, across the country, have been remarkable. We need to sustain this," said the Professor of Clinical Microbiology at the Cambridge Institute for Therapeutic Immunology and Infectious Diseases.

"I am certainly one of those who think that we need to get the vaccine right the first time. We are getting better at treating the disease and we can invest a few more months into research. I believe these months are going to be well invested. We have nine odd candidates and we want to choose the best few. It is not necessarily a race to see who makes it first but it is more about the quality — to see whether it is effective in the long run," said Gupta, who is hailed for having functionally cured the London patient — the second person ever to be cured of HIV with a stem-cell transplant.

Healthcare needs more investment in healthcare, the Indian-origin biologist said, regarding the preparedness of medical facilities during COVID-19, "The UK was prepared for a significant first wave and the healthcare system just about coped with it but at the cost of other procedures and treatment. There was a lot of damage due to the diversion of the resources from critical healthcare like cancer treatment."

The Global cooperation has been unprecedented. The efforts behind the vaccine have been remarkable. We need to sustain this?

Professor Ravindra K Gupta

EXPRESS expressions
FEAR NONE. FAVOUR NONE

There have been enough discussions about herd immunity setting in, but Gupta said that it would be quite difficult because lockdowns were imposed and the transmission of the disease had been hampered. Though the COVID-19 mortality rate in India is low, something which the Indian government has been highlighting often, the virologist contended that the data at any point during a pandemic of this scale is not reliable. "There are people who are not making it to the hospitals. There are people dying at home and these numbers are not being reported. So the data is not reliable at this point," he said. "India has a younger population and the disease is correlated to age. So maybe age is a reason. It can also be the theory that tropical countries have more encounters with infectious diseases and thus the immunological memory helps them to cope with the virus."

Punjab farmers set to intensify protests with gherao, Rahul to join stir on Oct 2

Agitating farmers have started a new campaign 'Gherao Corporate Businesses' targeting properties of BJP leaders

HARPREET BAJWA & RICHA SHARMA @Chandigarh/ New Delhi

STEPPING up pressure, farmers have decided to intensify their protests over the farm Bills by laying siege to corporate houses, offices, malls and residences of the BJP leaders in Punjab. Also, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi is expected to join agitating Punjab farmers on Gandhi Jayanti. However, there is a possibility that he may not be allowed to enter BJP-ruled Haryana by the state government to reach Punjab.

More than 12,000 farmers have been sitting on rail tracks in Punjab and indefinite Rail Roko to start from October 1 in the state. They have started a new campaign 'Gherao Corporate Businesses' after the three controversial farm Bills were now laws after the Presidential nod on Sunday.

Rahul Gandhi has been targeting the Centre over the farm legislations and has interacted with farmers via video conferencing. The Congress has been holding protests across the country over the new laws and has announced to submit 2 crore signatures of farmers to President Ram Nath Kovind.

In line with the concerted opposition to these anti-farmers' legislations, the party will observe 'Kisan-Mazdoor Bachao Divas' on October 2 by holding dharnas and marches at every assembly and district headquarters across the country.

Addressing the huge gathering in Ferozepur, on the 113th Birth anniversary of Shaheed Bhagat Singh and hanging Bhagat Singh's poster on the railway track. Satnam Singh Pannu BKU (Pannu Group), president announced to continue the protest till October 2 and dedicated the month of October as joint protest. Already till date around 20 trains have been cancelled or diverted and daily loss of two third of the freight as before the agitation around 35 to 40 rakes was lifted daily from the state now only about 10 rakes.

Talking with this newspaper, Sukhdev Singh Kokrikalan, General Secretary of Bhartiya Kisan Union (Ekta Ugrahan Group) said, "As the Modi government has enacted laws to favour corporate houses, we have decided to gherao all businesses run by MNCs from October 1 for indefinite period."

"On Tuesday, in our state level meeting we will give final shape to these protests after identifying 18 to 20 points in the state where to lay siege. Each protest site is expected to see a gathering of 2,000 to 15,000 protestors. '' The farmers protest also reached the national capital as the Punjab Youth Congress leaders burnt a tractor near the India Gate following which five of them including the state unit president were arrested by the Delhi Police.

Ruling party fields ex-babus to defend farm Bills

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

BUILDING up support for the farm Bills passed by Parliament, the BJP on Monday released a statement of 32 retired bureaucrats, who stated that the legislations are watershed in unshackling the farming community from exploitative practices.

Facing spirited opposition to the farm Bills, with farmers hitting the streets in Punjab, Haryana and other states, the secretary-ranked former bureaucrats claimed that unnecessary doubts about the MSPs are being fanned.

"We are a group of public spirited citizens of India comprising retired All India and Civil Services officers, dedicated to the sacred cause of securing the emergence of a Great India," the statement by the group of 32 retired bureaucrats argued. "The farm Bills passed by Parliament mark the watershed in the liberation of India's farming community from the shackles of exploitative practices that slow-pedaled their progress,"

Can states negate central laws using Article 254 (2) of Constitution?

KANU SARDA @New Delhi

WITH Sonia Gandhi advising Congress Chief Ministers to pass laws in their states under Article 254 (2) of the Constitution to negate the three farm laws which got the nod from the Rashtrapati Bhavan, the opposition is headed for clashes with the Central government. Here is the explainer telling the powers of state under this article.

What is Article 254(2)?
Article 254(2) refers to a scenario where a law made by a state legislature concerning any matter that falls in the Concurrent List contains any provision repugnant to the provisions of an earlier law made by Parliament or an existing law, with respect to that matter. In such a case, the law made by the state legislature will prevail, provided it is reserved for the consideration of the President of India and receives his assent.

How can states use this provision?
Supreme Court lawyer K V Dhananjay says this provision gives flexibility to a state legislature to make a law different from what is applicable in that state due to a parliamentary law already in operation there. "Of course, this flexibility is only available on matters that are in the concurrent list to Schedule 7 of the Constitution. Under that list both the Parliament and the state legislatures could legislate — subject to the rule that the parliamentary law will prevail over a state law."

What all is covered under concurrent list?
The concurrent list provides a rich set of topics for the states to take a lead in reform. It covers areas such as criminal law and procedure, marriage, divorce and adoption, bankruptcy and insolvency, social security, education (including technical and medical education) and electricity. Agriculture too comes under this list.

Will this provision help the states?
Though states could come out with their own Bills to some extent to override the statutes of passed by the Parliament, none of those Bills would be effective unless the President accords his consent to such Bills.

What happens if President does not give consent?
According to legal experts, it's the sole prerogative of the President whether to sign the state Bills or not. It's a rare circumstance, wherein a state Bill is accepted by the President without the Centre on board. In case, the Centre is opposing the Bill, then the President, who works on the aid and advice of the Council of Ministers, can refuse to give his consent.

Can states approach the Supreme Court challenging the central law?
Supreme Court Advocate on Record Sunil Fernandes says states can approach the Supreme Court under Article 131 — invoking the court's "original jurisdiction" — that allows a state to file a suit in the Supreme Court in case of any dispute that it may have with the central government. Article 131 could be used to examine the constitutionality of a statute.

Kerala Congress MP moves SC against farm law

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

CONGRESS MP from Thrissur, T N Prathapan, moved the Supreme Court on Monday, challenging the constitutional validity of the Farmers' (Empowerment and Protection) Agreement of Price Assurance and Farm Services Act, 2020.

President Ram Nath Kovind on Sunday gave assent to farm Bills passed in Parliament.

The filing of the petition follows Kovind's nod to the Farmers' Produce Trade and Commerce (Promotion and Facilitation) Bill, 2020, The Farmers (Empowerment and Protection) Agreement of Price Assurance and Farm Services Bill, 2020, and The Essential Commodities (Amendment) Bill, 2020.

The petitioner states that he is also a farmer and understands the difficulties being faced by the farmers due to various governmental polices. He alleges that the bill has been hastily passed without having adequate discussion on it and a bare reading of its provisions will reveal that it is not a progressive piece of legislation.

WCD MINISTRY USED ONLY 50% FUNDS ON MALNUTRITION: CAG

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @New Delhi

LESS than 50% of the fund meant for a crucial scheme to tackle malnutrition among children and pregnant and lactating women was utilised by the Centre in 2018-19, the latest CAG report has highlighted, strongly noting that this was a result of the 'inefficiencies' by the Women and Child Development Ministry.

Report said, only about ₹908 crore, out of approximately ₹1,042 crore allocated for the Integrated Child Development Scheme was actually disbursed.

The savings of over ₹1,000 crore were 'due to ministry's inefficiencies' in scheme performance, leading to delay in finalisation of contract with service provider for cloud services; delays in procurement of smart phones; non-receipt of utilisation certificates and availability of unspent balance of previous years with the state governments", report said.

ICDS, one of the WCD ministry's flagship programmes in existence since 1975 is meant for kids aged 0-6 under which they are assured of supplementary nutrition, non-formal education, nutrition & health education through anganwadis and immunisation and health check-ups in public hospitals.

All components of ICDS except supplementary nutrition programmes are financed through a 60:40 ratio between Centre and states and under SNP beneficiaries are given hot meals along with take-home rations.

CAG report is especially worrying as per the Lancet Child Adolescent Health 2019 report, malnutrition remains the predominant risk factor for deaths (68.2%) and disease burden in children younger than five years in India. "The national and state governments need to streamline budget monitoring systems, develop nutrition management information system and work together to effectively utilise the budget that can prevent nutrition disruption and improve access to nutrition supplies and services by the marginalised in a timely manner," said nutrition consultant Basanta Kumar Kar.

The governments need to streamline budget monitoring systems and work together to effectively utilise the budget that can prevent nutrition disruption

Basanta Kumar Kam, Nutrition consultant

Sujeet Ranjan, executive director, Coalition for Food and Nutrition Security said that the binding constraints in the implementation of the scheme are gaps in human resources, particularly at the supervisory level and procurement of growth monitoring devices. He identified lack of smartphones and likelihood of attrition in the quality of data collected through ICDS- common application software, fund utilisation, convergence at grassroot level, capacity building as other problem areas.

Post hospital discharge, Shah meets officials

New Delhi: Home Minister Amit Shah on Monday held a meeting with top officials of his ministry and discussed several 'important' and 'key' matters, officials said. This was for the first time Shah visited his North Block office to chair a meeting after returning from the AIIMS, where he underwent a health check-up recently. The home minister had a review meeting of the MHA with senior officials of the ministry where 'several important matters and key issues' were discussed, a home ministry official said. However, it is not known as to what key issues were discussed at the meeting. Home Secretary Ajay Bhalla and other officers attended the meeting.

Experts have mixed views on Centre's Covid-19 vaccination strategy

"No company has reached us with a definite cost estimate and we do not think a vaccine will cost over ₹650 per person when more than one market players are in the fray," a senior health ministry official said. Three experimental vaccines, that includes the ones by Oxford University, Bharat Biotech and Zydus Cadila, are under human trials as of now.

Experts meanwhile had mixed views on the Covid-19 vaccination strategy being put forth by the government committee. Immunologist Dr Dipyaman Ganguly said to start with, when access to vaccines are limited, its better to target people who are evidently more susceptible to severe outcomes. "I have one concern though - have the vaccine trials considered trying it on older population? Usually the trials are on younger healthy adults. But we must remember that most of them are not showing untoward outcomes even in response to natural infection," he pointed out. "So safety trial data on older population is of utmost necessity for any vaccine." Virologist Dr Gangandeep Kang stressed that denying someone a vaccine on the basis of presence of antibodies in them may not be a good idea.

"We do not know enough about protection from natural infection to be able to say that anyone with antibodies has protection, whether that is a short or long duration," she said. Virologist Dr Shahid Jameel on the other hand said he was broadly in favour of the proposal by the expert group. "High risk has to be defined clearly and unambiguously to avoid problems later," said Dr Jameel.

Fourth alliance to vie with NDA, Mahagathbandhan, UDSA in Bihar

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @Patna

THE Jan Adhikar Party (JAP) joined hands with three other political outfits, including the Chandrasekhar Azad-led Azad Samaj Party, to forge the Progressive Democratic Alliance in poll-bound Bihar.

The NDA, the Grand Alliance and the United Democratic Secular Alliance (UDSA) have already started poll preparations in the eastern state. The polls will be held in three phases on October 28, and November 3 and 7. The counting of votes will take place on November 10.

Rajesh Ranjan alias Pappu Yadav, the JAP national president, announced at a press briefing the formation of the alliance whose other two allies are the Social Democratic Party and the Bahujan Mukti Party. "There are two alliances in Bihar, one is casteist and the other is communal. Our coalition is humanitarian. This coalition is about socialism, not politics. We will announce the face of the coalition in the coming days," he said. "RLSP head Upendra Kushwaha, the LJP and Congress party have also been invited to join this alliance in the larger interest of state."

To a question on whether he wanted to become the King Maker in the state, the strongman of Madhepura claimed that he was the biggest servant of Bihar. Yadav accused Chief Minister Nitish Kumar of not helping Biharis who were hit by the Covid pandemic, adding that that the JD-U chief was attached with the throne of power instead of serving the state.

30,000 central security personnel to be deployed

The Centre has approved deployment of 30,000 central police personnel in Bihar for the upcoming state election next month, according to an order issued by the Union Ministry of Home Affairs. The 300 companies of Central Armed Police Forces and RPF will help the Bihar Police in ensuring the election is held peacefully, officials said on Monday.

Tejasvi takes on Tejashwi over RJD's jobs promise

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @Patna

COMING down heavily on RJD leader Tejashwi Yadav, who has been attacking the Centre over unemployment in the poll-bound Bihar, newly appointed president of BJP's youth wing Tejasvi Surya on Monday said the Yadav scion, who is doing politics of dynastic, knows nothing about hard work but is trying to mislead the youth promising jobs.

Surya's statement came a day after Yadav promised to provide 10 lakh permanent government jobs if the Grand Alliance is voted to power in the Assembly election in Bihar.

"This prince has the pain of unemployment. He, who has never seen the pangs of poverty, is now claiming to be the champion of down-trodden. It is the NDA that has injected a new lease of life into Bihar after rescuing from the 15 years of jungle raj, the Bangalore BJP MP said during 'Yuva Sanvad' event in Patna.

He said that Bihar is the state that has been the cradle of Indian civilisation. "Bihar, from the ancient Lichchavi republic to the struggle against the Emergency, has explained the importance of democracy to India," Surya said. Calling upon the youths to join hands to make the state self-reliant, Surya said the Bihar polls would determine the fate of the next 50 years of India. "The youths of this state blessed with talents and resources can change the dynamics of politics to the dynamics of development. And it is happy to see that Bihar under the governance of PM Modi and CM Nitish Kumar has started marching towards the goal of becoming a prosperous state," he said.

Accompanying him, former Maharashtra CM Devendra Fadnavis also mocked Yadav, saying "Tejashawi Yadav talks about giving 10 lakhs jobs. Will he give guns to the youths for crimes? During the 15 years of his parents' rule, kidnapping was the first employment in Bihar".

'Wife-beater' MP cop relieved of duties

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

A Director General (DG)-rank senior IPS officer in Bhopal has been relieved of duties after a video showing him assaulting his wife went viral on social media. Purshottam Sharma, 1986-batch IPS officer posted as the director (prosecution), was removed from his post on Monday after the video showing him dragging his wife along the ground and beating her mercilessly went viral on social media.

In an order by the Madhya Pradesh home department on Monday said Sharma has been shunted from duties with immediate effect.

According to official sources, the senior IPS officer has been attached to the home department for the time being. Sharma's son Parth, a deputy commissioner in the Income Tax Department, sent the video to state Home Minister Narottam Mishra and some senior bureaucrats and requested that a complaint be registered against his father. But instead of registering a case against the influential police officer, the state government has merely relieved of his present administrative post. When contacted by the media in the matter, Mishra said: "I have seen and read about the matter. If any written complaint comes to us, we will take action."

Incidentally, Sharma and Mishra hail from the same Gwalior-Chambal region.

Meanwhile, IPS officer's wife has reportedly approached the MP State Women Commission seeking action against him and proper police protection for self, alleging threat to her life.

There is no official confirmation so far of reports that the IPS officer was caught red-handed by his wife of 32 years at a woman's house, after which he assaulted her.

Sharma, however, denied doing anything wrong.

"I haven't committed any crime. It's a family matter between me and my wife. If she is so angry with me, why does she live with me and travel abroad on my money? The matter pertains to a small scuffle for self-defence. I haven't beaten her. My wife has installed CCTV cameras in the house, she stalks me where ever I go, I'm myself troubled," Sharma told the media.

BABAR QADRI

Assassination was instructed from Pak: Cops

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THE Jammu and Kashmir Police on Monday said the killing of young lawyer and activist Babar Qadri in Srinagar last week was ordered, instructed and instigated from Pakistan, claiming that the people involved in the attack have been identified.

"Babar Qadri's killing was ordered, instructed and instigated by terror handlers from Pakistan. It is not the normal killing that has happened. We have heard the audio and watched the video recordings of Babar before he was killed by militants last week," DG J&K Police Dilbagh Singh told reporters on Monday.

On Thursday evening, Babar, 36, was shot dead by the militants, who disguised as clients, at his residence at Hawal area of downtown Srinagar.

The DGP said the police have identified the people involved in the killing of the Babar, who was also a TV panelist and used to participate in debates on Kashmir.

"We are going to get to the roots on how it was planned and where the conspiracy was hatched. This is being done to send a sense of fear among the people so that they are not able to speak the truth and talk freely," he said.

Babar was killed three days after he had posted a tweet asking the J&K Police to register an FIR against a person for spreading a wrong campaign against him that he was working for agencies.

Fisticuffs and ransacking bare BJP's tense factional feud in West Bengal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

THE simmering factional feud between BJP old-timers and Trinamool Congress turncoats came out in the open with fisticuffs among their supporters and ransacking of party offices in Kolkata's adjoining two districts on Monday.

The episodes comes barely two days after the BJP high command elevated Mukul Roy, a one-time aide of Bengal CM Mamata Banerjee, as national vice-president and Anupam Hazra, also a former Trinamool member, as national secretary. Hazra, while on his way to attend a party meeting in Baruipur, South 24-Parganas, was surrounded by a section of irked party workers. The two sides clashed soon after Hazra left. Eleven persons, including two women, were injured, said the police.

At Basirhat in North 24-Parganas, BJP workers stormed into the party office where local BJP leaders, who defected from TMC, were holding a session and went on a rampage.

A section of BJP leaders fear that if more TMC turncoats are given importance, the rift will become deeper. "If those who have been serving the party since past two decades are sidelined and TMC leaders, who joined our party barely two or three years ago, are placed in the hierarchy, it will trigger resentment among the party's loyal workers," said a senior BJP leader. Incidentally, former national general secretary Rahul Sinha had said the demotion was a "reward" for serving the party for 40 years.

BJP sources said Roy's elevation was done with an eye-ing on the 2021 general elections. "We are expecting exodus from the TMC before the next year's election. There are a significant number of Roy's followers in the ruling party as once he was the second-in command there," said a BJP leader.

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

Sources said the SIT has named Saini and Umranangal in the FIR in the Behbal Kalan case registered at the Bajakhana police station. The SIT is likely to issue notices to Saini and Umaranangal soon. Both of them are already accused in the Kotkapura firing incident.

On October 14, 2015, hundreds of people had gathered in Kotkapura to protest against a sacrilege incident, which took place on October 12 in the nearby Bargari village, when the police used tear gas, water cannon and even opened fire to disperse the protesters. During the protests in Behbal Kalan village, the police fired on the protesters killing two Sikh youths.

OFFSET CLAUSE CHUCKED OUT, BUT CONDITIONS APPLY

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

ON a day the Defence Acquisition Council (DAC) approved purchases worth ₹2,290 crore, the bigger talking point was a major tweak in the offset policy tied to the acquisition of arms and equipment to make procurement easier.

According to the new Defence Acquisition Procedure (DAP) 2020 unveiled on Monday by Defence Minister Rajnath Singh, offsets will not be applicable to three specific categories—Inter-Government Agreement (IGA), Government to Government (G2G) and single-vendor deals.

The offset clause was a UPA government policy introduced in 2005. But "no offset has led to a transfer of technology. Most have to do with product purchase as has been brought out in a recent Comptroller and Auditor General report," Director General (Acquisition) Apurva Chandra said while interacting with journalists.

Under the new DAP, a clause requiring foreign firms to invest 30% of the contract value in the Indian manufacturing sector has been dropped for G2G or single-vendor deals. However, competitive multi-vendor procurement cases will still have offsets.

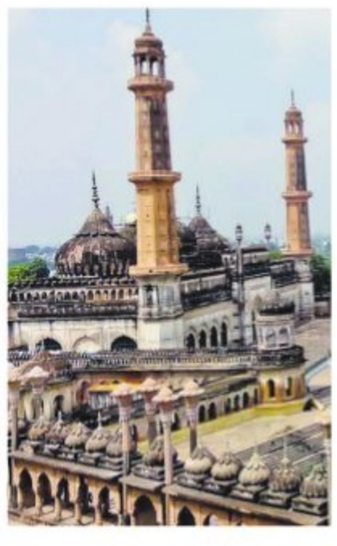
Among other changes, the armed forces will now be allowed to take a variety of equipment on lease to cut down acquisition time and cost. The equipment include transport aircraft, trainers or simulators.

Meanwhile, the DAC approved the purchase of a clutch of equipment from both the domestic and foreign vendors. Under the Buy Indian (IDDM) category, the approval was granted to Static HF Tans-receiver sets and Smart Anti Airfield Weapon (SAAW). The Smart Anti Airfield Weapon being procured for around ₹970 crore will add to the fire power of the Navy and the IAF.

In addition, to equip the frontline troops, the DAC approved the procurement of SIG SAUER assault rifles, with the deal valued around ₹780 crore.

POLICY'S MANDATE

Under the offset policy, foreign defence entities, for all contracts worth over ₹300 crore, are mandated to spend at least 30% of the total contract value in India through procurement of components, transfer of technologies or setting up of research and development facilities



Re-opening of Bara Imambara sparks row

The re-opening of Bara Imambara, one of the famous tourist spots of Lucknow, has led to controversy with Shia cleric Kalbe Jawad leading protests against the move. His contention is: Imambaras are primarily for majlis. The administration is not allowing the monument for its primary purpose then why opening it for tourists? In protest, he held a majlis on the Imambara campus where a large number of Shia Muslims took part. The cleric, a general secretary of Majlis-e-Ulama-e-Hind, said majlis will now be held all through the days at the Bada Imambara during the month of Muharram.

BREXIT

UK stands by 'illegal' bill

BRUSSELS

BRITAIN stood by its provocative bid to change the terms of its EU divorce deal on Monday, as a make-or-break week of post-Brexit trade talks began under a storm cloud.

Senior British minister Michael Gove delivered his message to EU Commission vice-president Maros Sefcovic, his counterpart and joint chair of an EU-UK coordination committee that oversees the implementation of the divorce deal.

Last month, the British government unveiled an "Internal Markets Bill", which would override parts of the Brexit treaty that British PM Boris Johnson struck with the EU last year. AFP

Report lays bare Trump's finances

Records show businesses bleeding cash, helping US prez shrink his federal tax bill to peanuts

WASHINGTON

US President Donald Trump reeled Monday on the eve of his first televised debate against challenger Joe Biden after a bolt-from-the-blue report showed he has been avoiding paying almost any federal income tax for years.

The scoop from the New York Times, reporting that Trump paid only $750 in federal income tax in 2016 and 2017, and none at all for 10 of the previous 15 years, was a shot to the jugular of the self-described billionaire.

Trump calls the Times' story -- which the newspaper says is based on his long secret tax returns -- false.

The Times story raises new doubts about whether Trump is really the man with the Midas touch that he portrays or a hapless spendthrift owing a lot of people money.

The Times said that his golf courses report losing large amounts of money, and hundreds of millions of dollars in loans he personally guaranteed will soon be due for repayment.

The president's financial disclosures indicated he earned at least $434.9 million in 2018, but the tax filings reported a $47.4 million loss.

The tax filings also illustrate how a reputed billionaire could pay little to nothing in taxes, while someone in the middle class could pay substantially more than him.

Trump found multiple ways to reduce his tax bills. He has taken tax deductions on personal expenses such as housing, aircraft and $70,000 to style his hair while he filmed "The Apprentice." Losses in the property businesses solely owned and managed by Trump appear to have offset income from his stake in "The Apprentice" and other entities with multiple owners.

During the first two years of his presidency, Trump relied on business tax credits to reduce his tax obligations. The Times said $9.7 million worth of business investment credits that were submitted after Trump requested an extension to file his taxes allowed him to offset his obligations and pay just $750 each in 2016 and 2017.

Income tax payments help finance the military and domestic programs.

Trump, starting in 2010, claimed and received an income tax refund that totaled $72.9 million, which the Times said was at the core of an ongoing IRS audit.

WASHINGTON POST ENDORSES JOE BIDEN

The Washington Post endorsed Joe Biden for US president on Monday, calling the veteran Democrat a leader of "decency, honor and competence" who stands in stark contrast to incumbent Donald Trump. The leading paper in the nation's capital joins other recent notable Biden endorsements, including Pennsylvania's Republican ex-governor Tom Ridge, senator John McCain's widow and the actor Dwayne "The Rock" Johnson. Many Americans might be willing to vote for nearly anyone "in order to expel the worst president of modern times," the Post's editorial board wrote, citing Trump's bungled coronavirus pandemic response and attacks on democratic norms. The Post has been no friend to Republican Trump, who has repeatedly denounced the newspaper and its rivals as "fake news."

Judge delays TikTok ban in blow to Trump admin

NEW YORK

A federal judge on Sunday postponed a Trump administration order that would have banned the popular video sharing app TikTok from US smartphone app stores around midnight.

A more comprehensive ban remains scheduled for November, about a week after the presidential election. The judge, Carl Nichols of the U.S District Court for the District of Columbia, did not agree to postpone the later ban.

The ruling followed an emergency hearing Sunday morning in which lawyers for TikTok argued that the administration's app-store ban would infringe on First Amendment rights and do irreparable harm to the business.

Pak govt arrests oppn leader ahead of nationwide protest

Shahbaz Sharif leaves the High Court in Lahore on Monday | AP

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN'S top Opposition leader and PML-N President Shahbaz Sharif was arrested by the country's anti-graft body on Monday after a court rejected his bail plea in a money laundering case.

The development comes just ahead of the planned protests next month by his party - the Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N) - to demand the resignation of Prime Minister Imran Khan.

Shahbaz, the Leader of the Opposition and the younger brother of three-time former prime minister Nawaz Sharif, was taken into custody from the Lahore High Court's premises, where a large number of the PML-N workers gathered ahead of the hearing in the Rs 700 crores (USD 41.9 million) money laundering case.

The anti-graft body - National Accountability Bureau (NAB) - took him to its Lahore's detention centre and will produce him to the accountability court for his physical remand.

Earlier, a two-member LHC bench headed by Sardar Ahemd Naeem rejected his bail after hearing the arguments from the NAB's team and Shahbaz's lawyer.

The Imran Khan government last week filed the money laundering case against 69-year-old Shahbaz, who served as chief minister of Punjab province from 2008 to 2018, and his family.

Adviser to the PM on Interior and Accountability Shahzad Akbar last week alleged that Shahbaz and his sons - Hamza and Salman - were involved in money laundering through fake accounts. Akbar said the financial monitoring unit had detected 177 suspicious transactions of Shahbaz' family after which NAB started a probe.

He alleged that crores of rupees were laundered through employees of the companies owned by Shahbaz and his children. Akbar accused Shahbaz and Hamza of taking kickbacks and commissions in return for party tickets and projects to favourites. PTI

Azerbaijan's soldiers fire from a mortar at the contact line of the self-proclaimed Republic of Nagorno-Karabakh | AZERBAIJAN'S DEFENSE MINISTRY VIA AP

Dozens dead as fighting continues to rage between Armenia, Azerbaijan

YEREVAN

Armenia and Azerbaijani forces kept fighting Monday over the disputed separatist region of Nagorno-Karabakh after hostilities broke out the day before, with both sides blaming each other for resuming the deadly attacks that reportedly also wounded scores of people.

The Azerbaijani Defense Ministry claimed that Armenian forces started shelling the town of Tartar on Monday morning, while Armenian officials said the fighting continued throughout the night and Baku resumed "offensive actions" in the morning.

Azerbaijan's Defense Ministry told the Interfax news agency Monday that over 550 Armenian troops have been "destroyed (including those wounded)", a claim that Armenian officials denied.

According to Nagorno-Karabakh officials, 59 servicemen on their side have been killed so far. On Sunday, the territory's defense ministry also reported two civilian deaths — a woman and her grandson.

About 200 people have been wounded in the fighting, the Armenian Defense Ministry said Monday, while Azerbaijani authorities said 26 civilians have been wounded on their side.

The heavy fighting broke out on Sunday morning in the region that lies within Azerbaijan but has been under the control of ethnic Armenian forces backed by Armenia since 1994 at the end of a separatist war.

Mostly mountainous Nagorno-Karabakh lies 50 km from the Armenian border. Local soldiers backed by Armenia also occupy some Azerbaijani territory outside the region.

The European Union on Monday urged both sides to halt the fighting and return to the negotiating table, following similar calls by Iran, Russia, France and the US.

Armenia's Foreign Ministry on Monday accused Turkey, who sides with Azerbaijan in the conflict, of "supporting this aggression." Both Armenia and Turkey on Monday accused each other of recruiting foreign mercenaries. AP

Another stimulus shot in the offing

The package would include income support for the poor as well as incentives for industries

JAYANTA ROY CHOWDHURY
@ New Delhi

> ... As the pandemic and its impact on the economy continues, we have to rework strategies and need more measures to boost demand and investment. These are in the works
> Finance ministry officials

THE Centre is considering another round of stimulus which will be spent on healthcare measures to combat the pandemic, along with extending free rations for the poor and pumping in more money into income generating schemes. Besides, it is also likely to come up with incentive packages for a host of industries. Officials said the measures were being worked out and a political decision on their roll-out timing will be taken soon.

Industry bodies have been complaining that a lack of demand is stifling India's economic recovery, with the country posting the largest contraction in any major economy for the April-June quarter at nearly 24 per cent.

"We have already announced stimulus in several tranches worth about ₹21 lakh crore, but as the pandemic and its impact on the economy continues, we have to rework strategies and need more measures to boost demand and investment. These are in the works," said top finance ministry officials.

Industries ranging from textiles, telecom gear, electric batteries, automobiles and food processing may get incentives for a five year period. The productivity linked incentives will be similar to those announced for the pharmaceuticals and electronics sectors recently.

Officials said to ramp up employment, spending would be increased on jobs schemes. MGNREGA scheme, which provides guaranteed work in rural areas, was topped up with an extra allocation of ₹40,000 crore as part of an earlier stimulus program to bring the total to ₹1 lakh crore. This figure will have to be raised as about half of the money allocated for the rural employment guarantee scheme had been spent by early-August. Officials said urban employment schemes have also been suggested by some experts and may be considered.

Similarly, the Union government had announced free rations for the poor till November and this is likely to be extended as the coronavirus cases mount and unemployment rates remain high.

Budget for healthcare is also likely to go up as the government ramps up infrastructure and takes a call on buying Covid-19 vaccines. "India may or may not provide free vaccines to its entire population, but a call has to be taken on at least immunisation of critical workers and vulnerable sections," officials added.

INDICATING a spilling over of border tensions into the world of trade, India has begun a probe into the alleged dumping of a certain pharmaceutical raw material by Chinese companie. While the compound in question—Ceftriaxone Sodium Sterile—is just a drop in the vast ocean of Active Pharmaceutical Ingredients (API) imports, the probe comes at a time when domestic API companies are clamouring for the Centre to actively reduce India's import dependency on Chinese APIs.

Brokerage note that China accounts for most of the key raw materials India's massive pharma factories consume, with dependency on our northern neighbour for key starting materials (KSM) stands at around 60-70 per cent. The primary reason for this is the price factor. Pharma sector sources point out that China's economies of scale result in 20-30 per cent cheaper prices than competitors from other regions, including India.

Monday's circular from the Ministry of Commerce's Directorate General of Trade Remedies (DGTR) indicates that government scrutiny is turning this way. DGTR said the probe has been initiated due to a report filed by Indian pharma firms Nectar Life Sciences and Sterile India. The firms allege that there has been "material injury" caused to the domestic industry due to dumped imports from China and have sought the imposition of an anti-dumping duty on the product.

Ceftriaxone Sodium Sterile is used in formulations for treating infections in the lower respiratory tract, skin, and intra-abdominal infections. "Having satisfied itself, on the basis of the prima facie evidence submitted by the domestic industry, about dumping of the subject goods originating in or exported from the subject country (China)...the authority, hereby, initiates an investigation," the DGTR said.

If the authority confirms that dumping is taking place, it will recommend a certain anti-dumping duty to the government. ADD is an effort to ensure fair trading practices and creating a level-playing field for domestic producers.

NEW ROLE

P D Vaghela appointed as chairman of TRAI

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE Union Government on Monday named senior bureaucrat P D Vaghela as the new Chairman of the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI). The 1986-batch Gujarat cadre IAS officer will replace R S Sharma, who has held the post since 2015. Sharma was set to retire on September 30 this year and had been granted a two-year extension on his original three-year term in August 2018.

According to the note from the Appointments Committee of the Cabinet, Vaghela will serve as TRAI Chairman for "three years or till he attains the age of 65". He is currently the Secretary of the Union Government's Department of Pharmaceuticals and was due to retire on Wednesday.

Vaghela will take over the communications sector watchdog at a pivotal time. With the telecom industry having recently emerged from the brief, but intense, bout of consolidation of the past few years,

Vaghela will need to mount a lookout for the very real dangers of a communications monopoly—which the government has repeatedly called undesirable.

He will also likely have to shepherd the roll-out of the long-awaited 5G telecommunications frameworks. While the 5G spectrum auctions have been long-delayed, even the most pessimistic believe they will take place before Vaghela's term ends three years later. He will also inherit challenges in the television segment, where the merging of traditional cable TV with fibre-optic internet is resulting in a converged medium. Experts say, the amalgamation of the fixed-line and cable TV markets into a single entity with different dynamics will require considerable regulatory dexterity.

RBI extends enhanced borrowing facility for banks till March 31, 2021

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU New Delhi

IN order to ensure enough liquidity to the banks, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Monday extended the time limit of the enhanced borrowing facility provided to banks to meet liquidity shortage till March 31, 2021.

This is the second time that the central bank has taken such a measure amid the ongoing economic woes created by the coronavirus pandemic. Earlier, the RBI had increased the borrowing limit for scheduled banks under the marginal standing facility (MSF) scheme from 2 per cent to 3 per cent of their Net Demand and Time Liabilities with effect from March 27, 2020 till June , which was later extended to September.

Under the MSF, banks can borrow overnight funds at their discretion by dipping into the Statutory Liquidity Ratio (SLR). This was done as a temporary measure to allow more liquidity available to banks keeping in view the increasing borrowing requirement.

"With a view to providing comfort to banks on their liquidity requirements as also to enable to continue to meet LCR (liquidity coverage ratio) requirements, it has been decided to continue with the MSF relaxation for a further period of six months, i.e., up to March 31, 2021," the central bank said in a statement.

According to the industry assessment, this will increase access to funds to the extent of ₹1.49 lakh crore, and also qualifies as High-Quality Liquid Assets (HQLA) for the LCR.The marginal standing facility rate currently stands at 4.25 per cent.

'By 2050, India will be the second largest economy'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

EVEN as India's growth is expected to contract by a double-digit figure this fiscal, top industrialist Gautam Adani has debunked the narrow fixation on GDP numbers.

According to Adani, whose company recently bought majority stake in Mumbai International Airport, India will be the second-largest economy by 2050 and has an edge over global peers in terms of business opportunities.

He also feels Prime Minister Narendra Modi's ambitious Aatma Nirbhar Bharat programme will be a game-changer for India. "For the sake of the fans of the GDP metric, let's look at some statistics. The global GDP in 1990 was $38 trillion. Today, 30 years later, this number is $90 trillion. Projecting for another 30 years, in 2050 the global GDP is expected to be about $170 trillion with India becoming the second-largest economy in the world," said Adani while speaking at the JP Morgan India Summit.

India's GDP number has seen year-on-year contraction since the last four years. The economy shrunk by a record 23.9 per cent in the April-June quarter because of the COVID-19 pandemic, the steepest fall posted by any major economies. Adani said that short-term setbacks due to a global crisis cannot be used to write off the country as its fundamentals remain intact.

Adani added that India will needs $1.5-2 trillion of capital over the next decade but despite key structural reforms such as the National Investment and Infrastructure Fund and Credit Enhancement Fund, capital structure challenges, and lack of empowered and independent regulators remain bottlenecks to nation-building and investment opportunities. "In my view... an alignment with the government's business agenda is what creates the greatest value," he said.

Indian refining margins under pressure: BPCL

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

BHARAT Petroleum Corporation Ltd (BPCL) on Monday highlighted the risks that low crude oil prices were having on the refining segment, even though lower crude oil prices were generally beneficial for an oil importer like India, which meets 85 per cent of its oil needs from foreign sources.

BPCL chairman and managing director (CMD) K Padmakar said that the overall oil and gas sector has been hit by "the double whammy of declining demand due to worldwide lockdowns and overflowing supplies due to the supply war among major producers". "A low oil price regime, like the one prevailing now, is favourable for the economy. However, with the decline in demand and reduction in product cracks, profitability of Indian refiners has come under immense pressure," he added.

Jet Airways' bidders told to submit revised offers

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU New Delhi

THE Committee of Creditors (CoC) of Jet Airways (India) Limited has given the airline's bidders to come up with a revised offer in the next couple of days, said a person aware with the development.

The State Bank of India-led CoC had held a meeting Monday to decide on the bids for the airline. The grounded and insolvent airline has received bids from two consortiums— UK-based Kalrock Capital and UAE-based entrepreneur Murari Lal Jalan, and a consortium of Haryana-based Flight Simulation Technique Centre, Mumbai-based Big Charter and Abu Dhabi's Imperial Capital Investments LLC. According to the person aware of the latest development, the bidders are asked to change the offers over the next five days as the CoC expects them to come with improved offers. The winning bid will require at least 66 per cent of the lenders' votes.

Jet was grounded in April 2019 owing to lack of liquidity after it failed to raise funds from its lender. It was then admitted to the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) in June 2019.

Since then, its CoC, met 16 times, but a deal with a potential buyer is yet to be reached. Financial creditors to Jet Airways have filed ₹8,232 crore worth of claims, while operational creditors owed more than ₹7,300 crore.

Jet had earlier attracted around a dozen expression of interests (EoIs) from suitors, which later narrowed down to just two. The deadline for completing the insolvency resolution process was earlier extended beyond August 21 due to Covid-19 uncertainty.

Jet Airways' assets include few of its planes, brand value, Air Operator Permit (AOP) and a stake in a profitable frequent flyer programme. Last month, Jet Airways had re-acquired six of its Boeing 777 from lessor Fleet Ireland.

It further added that it may take 2-3 years for revenue per available room (RePAR) to reach pre- Covid levels.

LVB shares jump 5% after bank reassures depositors

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

RECOVERING from a free fall, the shares of Lakshmi Vilas Bank (LVB) gained 5.21 per cent after the lender sought to reassure depositors that it has adequate liquidity. During the day, it declined 5.72 per cent to ₹18.10, but bounced back to close at ₹20.20 apiece on the BSE on Monday.

A fresh crisis has hit the bank as shareholders voted against the appointment of seven directors to its board, including its promoters and CEO during an annual general meeting held last week. On Sunday, however, the Reserve Bank of India approved the appointment of three-member Committee of Directors (CoD) to run the daily affairs of LVB. This CoD will exercise the discretionary powers of MD (managing director) and CEO (chief executive officer) in the ad-interim, the bank said in a statement on Monday.

The bank also said its liquidity position as on September 27 was comfortable, with liquidity coverage ratio (LCR) in excess of 250 per cent i.e. about 262 per cent against minimum 100 per cent required by RBI. "Hence, the bank does not have any asset-liability mismatch and is successfully fulfilling its commitments to deposit-holders, bondholders, account-holders and creditors," it added.

This also comes at a time when the bank, which is in desperate need of capital, and was was in the middle of a merger process with PE fund-backed Clix Capital, after an earlier merger proposal with Indiabulls Housing Finance was rejected by the central bank. The troubles started after it shifted its focus to lend to large businesses.

Start-ups see intense deal activity as investors show renewed interest

BISMAH MALIK @ Bengaluru

DESPITE the double whammy of coronavirus pandemic and India-China tensions, the Indian startup ecosystem has seen an increased deal activity in last two months from both homegrown and foreign funds.

Major US PE funds such as KKR, Tiger Global , Nexus Venture, Lightspeed ventures, Sequoia capital as well as Japanese tech investment giant, Softbank remained bullish on Indian markers in the the second half of 2020 with a wide interest across various sectors like education, healthcare, digital payments and e-commerce.

On the other hand, homegrown funds including 3one4 capital, 9unicorns, Chiratae ventures, Axillor ventures and even Paytm CEO, Vijay Shekhar Sharma, Flipkart co-founders, Binny Bansal and Sachin Bansal and other tech leaders have raised funds and invested in start-ups amid the crisis.

According to sector analysts, Jio platform's fundraising spree to the tune of$ 20 billion proved to be pivotal in attracting the investors again towards the India's startup ecosystem-, which is currently the secondly largest in the world.

EXPRESS ILLUSTRATION

India's richest man Mukesh Ambani earlier said during the Reliance Limited's Annual General Meeting that he is welcoming the vibrant new-age companies to work with Jio for various tech initiatives and also hinted towards investing in the startups. Jio platform's investors including KKR, Facebook, Google have also announced their plans to invest in the Indian start-up ecosystem. Prashant Kumar, managing director, KKR India, had earlier said that its investments during the pandemic touched $30 billion, including its investment in Jio.

Kumar said, that unlike the recession in 2008, the investors now have a multi-pronged strategy and are showing keen interest in both Covid-19 proof as well as Covid-19 hit sectors.

"Healthcare, e-commerce, education were some of the sectors where active interest was seen. However, during the pandemic we have invested across diverse geographies and in multiple sectors," he added.

Google, earlier this week, onboarded 20 start-ups for training and funding opportunities for the firms and said that start-ups will be a key to its $10 billion investment plans in India.

Metrics reloaded

Tewatia's recent T20 numbers indicated that he had one of best boundaries hit to balls faced ratio, that's why Royals backed him

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

AROUND the 30th minute mark in Moneyball, Brad Pitt, playing the role of Billy Beane, the general manager of Oakland Athletics, has his first major showdown with the franchise's support staff. Even as the support staff suggest him names to get in the off season, Beane disagrees with all of their suggestions. Instead, Beane offers three left-field suggestions he thinks will level the playing field in an unfair game that's by and large decided by who owns the biggest bank accounts.

When Rajasthan Royals got together before the auction to put in a call to Delhi Capitals to ask for Rahul Tewatia, their thinking must have been based on similar lines. Royals were convinced that he had good underlying numbers. He had already shown for Haryana in the Syed Mushtaq Ali domestic T20 tournament earlier in 2019 that he had it in him to muscle the ball out of the park at will. For example, in a match against Chhattisgarh in February, he scored an unbeaten 59 off 20 (5 fours and as many sixes).

Those numbers told them a story that others had ignored. Among all Indian batsmen who had played a minimum of 20 T20 innings in 2019, he had the best strike rate. He also had a high boundaries hit to balls faced percentage. He hit a four or a six every 4.1 balls he faced in 2019 (49 from 201 balls he faced).

Want to know how that specific number compares to some of the best in the business for power hitters in the middle order? Hardik Pandya? 3.91 (62 out of 243). Andre Russell? 3.50 (169 out of 593). Eoin Morgan 4.35 (82 out of 357). MS Dhoni? 7.13 (59 out of 421). Glenn Maxwell? 4.93 (118 out of 582). Kieron Pollard? 4.95 (190 out of 942).

Ramky S, the India team's former performance analyst, says it was an example of quick thinking on the part of the Royals. "Who would be the right man in this situation? T20 is all about dynamic thinking," he told this daily. "You can keep talking about averages and runs scored but you need other metrics when it comes to different T20s because it's different when compared to Tests and ODIs. How many boundaries does he score in the end overs, how does he perform under pressure, what are his strengths against bowlers who are yet to bowl... a lot of factors come into play."

Tewatia seemingly ticked a couple of those boxes but he also served Royals the purpose of being that middle-order Indian hitter who could roll his arm over if the need came.

After taking 3/37 in the opener against CSK, he let his bat do the talking on Sunday. Supported by data, Royals backed their man to deliver. And he did, even if he took his time.

AT ABU DHABI

High-flying DC meet SRH

Delhi Capitals and Sunrisers Hyderabad have had contrasting fortunes so far with Shreyas Iyer-led side sitting atop with two wins while the latter languishing at the bottom of the points table after two losses. Talking points...

BATTING WORRY FOR SRH

Hyderabad rely on their openers — skipper David Warner and Jonny Bairstow. With the opening partnerships of 18 and 24 in two matches, the onus was on remaining batsmen to step up. But barring Manish Pandey, they have failed so far. The batting needs to click if Hyderabad want to get back to winning ways.

KANE MAY RETURN

Hyderabad may bring in New Zealand skipper Kane Williamson to provide stability to the batting line-up. Delhi's R Ashwin, who suffered an injury in the team's first outing, is likely to miss the match as he hasn't recovered fully yet.

PITCH & CONDITIONS

The pitch might get slower as the game progresses. Twice in three previous matches, the teams batting second chased down the target. Temperature will be around 35 degrees.

Extraordinary run-chase turns into Super spectacle

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

AFTER a surreal run-chase on Sunday, no target seems improbable. Not even 201 scored by the Royal Challengers Bangalore on Monday. The script, however, turned pulsating when the match looked beyond reach with 80 runs required off 24 balls. Mumbai Indians' wicketkeeper-batsman Ishan Kishan and hard-hitting Kieron Pollard launched an extraordinary revival. Though the two could not take Mumbai off the finish line, managed to take it to Super Over. Kishan perished at 99 off 58 balls in last over, while Pollard remained unbeaten at 60 off 24 balls.

The Super Over, however, turned the tables and paved way for Bangalore to comfortably cross the finish line. It was Virat Kohli & Co's second win in three matches.

Earlier, Bangalore's Aaron Finch dealt in boundaries, scoring a 35-ball 52. The foundation was set with an opening wicket stand of 81 with Devdutt Padikkal. But, Kohli failed and was out for 11-ball 3. The onus fell on De Villiers (55 n.o) and Padikkal (54) to take advantage of the position, and they did, helping Bangalore end up with 201/3.

Padikkal, who was playing second fiddle when Finch was going strong, shifted gears. The left-hander, who was 25 from 23 at one point of time, made his intent clear with back-to-back sixes off James Pattinson. It was from the 17th over of the innings that De Villiers began to dominate proceedings.

Briefscores: RCB 201/3 in 20 ovs (De Villiers 55 n.o, Padikkal 54, Finch 52) tied with MI 201/5 in 20 ovs (Kishan 99, Pollard 60 n.o). RCB won via Super Over.

SAI approves Mirabai's training in US

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

MIRABAI Chanu and her coach Vijay Sharma were into the first day of their 14-day mandatory quarantine at NIS Patiala when they learnt that the weightlifter's overseas training and rehabilitation programme has been sanctioned by Mission Olympic Cell on Monday. The duo had reached the centre on Sunday after a 10-day break.

The approval means the 49kg lifter will now be able to rehabilitate and train in USA's Kansas City in November and December if the schedule forwarded to the ministry is accepted. She will be accompanied by her coach and physiotherapist Akrant Saxena.

"She is not injured but a few bio-mechanical issues need to be looked into. We are planning two-month stint in Kansas. In the first three weeks, she will work with a doctor to resolve these while continuing with her training. Depending upon the result, we will plan our schedule for the following weeks," coach Sharma told this daily.

The two-month long stay will cost around ₹40 lakh and the coach feels the trip will prepare his ward for upcoming international events. "The international calendar is not out but I expect an event in January. Our preparations will come handy when she competes in the first event after this forced break," added the coach. She has almost qualified for Tokyo and would like to seal the place before the last Olympic Qualifier in April.

New method to disinfect N95 masks for reuse

HEAT+HUMIDITY

HOUSTON: Researchers at the Department of Energy's SLAC National Accelerator Laboratory, Stanford University and the University of Texas Medical Branch have found that gently heating N95 masks in high relative humidity could inactivate SARS-CoV-2 virus trapped within the masks, without degrading their performance.

For the study, researchers focused their attention on a combination of heat and humidity to try to decontaminate masks.

Working at the World Reference Center for Emerging Viruses and Arboviruses, the team first mixed up batches of SARS-CoV-2 virus in liquids designed to mimic the fluids that might spray out of our mouths when we cough, sneeze, sing or simply breathe.

They next sprayed droplets of the brew on a piece of melt-blown fabric, a material used in most N95 masks, and let it dry.

They heated their samples at temperatures ranging from 25°C to 95°C for up to 30 minutes with relative humidity up to 100 per cent.

Higher humidity and heat substantially reduced the amount of virus the team could detect on the mask. The sweet spot appeared to be 85°C with 100 per cent relative humidity, the team could find no trace of SARS-CoV-2 after cooking the masks under those conditions.

New pledges to reverse nature loss by 2030

GREEN COMMITMENT

PARIS: Dozens of countries representing more than a quarter of the global GDP on Monday released a fresh set of pledges for "urgent and immediate" action to halt nature loss and protect Earth's crucial biodiversity.

Ahead of the UN Summit on Biodiversity this week, more than 60 heads of state and government promised to slash air pollution, eliminate ocean plastic and transition to more sustainable food systems by 2030.

The pledge comes just two weeks after the UN's periodic review of existing global conservation plans found that nations were set to miss all 20 targets they set themselves back in 2010 to halt nature loss.

Signatories to the Leaders' Pledge for Nature said that nature loss was wreaking "irreversible harm" to life on Earth, aggravating inequality and contributing to climate change while increasing the future risk of pandemics such as Covid-19.

Nations including Germany, France, Britain and Mexico promised to develop an "ambitious" plan for ahead of next year's UN COP15 Biodiversity Conference in China. This would include ending "harmful" subsidies for fossil fuel and boosting spending instead for restoring wild spaces such as forests and wetlands.

Germany launches new search for nuclear waste storage site

Germany's geology is so favourable, from north to south and east to west, that we can say with conviction that it will be possible to find the one site with the best possible security for the final storage of highly radioactive waste

Stefan Studt, BGE chairman

CONTAMINATION FEAR

BERLIN: Germany has launched a new search for a site to store its most radioactive nuclear waste, eliminating a disputed site at a former salt mine that was earmarked decades ago and has long been a focus of protests.

A report issued on Monday by Germany's waste management organisation, or BGE, identified 90 areas covering 54 per cent of the country's surface area as potentially geologically suited for a nuclear storage site. It kicked off what is bound to be a politically fraught process, with a final decision slated for 2031. The aim is to start using the selected site in 2050.

Following the Fukushima nuclear disaster in Japan nine years ago, Germany decided to phase out its own nuclear power generation by the end of 2022. But the question of where to put the waste already generated has remained unresolved. Three years ago, parliament cleared the way for a science-based search for a site.

Officials are seeking a safe home for a million years for some 1,900 containers of waste, which make up only 5 per cent of Germany's total nuclear waste but 99 per cent of its radioactivity, BGE chairman Stefan Studt said.

"Germany's geology is so favorable, from north to south and east to west, that we can say with conviction that it will be possible to find the one site with the best possible security for the final storage of highly radioactive waste," he said.

One site that won't be considered is the one that was earmarked by West German authorities in the 1970s — a former salt mine at Gorleben, in a sparsely populated area then located in an isolated corner of the country, close to the border with East Germany.

Locals never accepted that decision and Gorleben became a focus for Germany's strong anti-nuclear movement.

Occasional shipments of reprocessed waste to a warehouse near the salt mine turned into huge security operations with days-long cat-and-mouse games between police and protesters.

BGE official Steffen Kanitz said Gorleben was found not to have a "favourable overall geological situation," in part because of a potential risk of erosion.

FedEx to use self-flying tech

CARGO DELIVERY

Logistics giant FedEx is looking to use self-flying planes to transport packages to remote places, according to the CEO of the company. FedEx is working with tech startup Reliable Robotics to test the use of an unmanned aircraft for cargo delivery, news site Supply Chain Dive said in a recent report. "This initiative deals with smaller turboprop airplanes and in this case the single-engine C208, which we are looking at putting in very remote and uninhabited areas as part of our network," FedEx CEO Fred Smith was quoted as saying. Reliable Robotics said it successfully completed test flights of two remote-piloted passenger airplanes in the United States airspace last month.

UK to fine +ve people £1k if they fail to self-isolate

Covid-19 patients will also be punished if they knowingly provide false information to contact tracers, country's health dept warns

NEW RESTRICTIONS

LONDON: People across England will be required by law from Monday to self-isolate if they test positive for the coronavirus or face a £1,000 fine, which increases to £10,000 for repeat offenders.

The government said that as the infection is now spreading rapidly again across the country, the tougher measures are aimed at ensuring compliance and reducing the spread of Covid-19.

"These new measures are about saving lives. Everyone must take personal responsibility and self-isolate if they test positive or if told to do so by NHS Test and Trace," said UK Home Secretary Priti Patel.

"For those who fail to do so, the police will enforce the law. These new fines are a clear sign that we will not allow those who break the rules to reverse the hard-won progress made by the law-abiding majority," Patel warned.

Fines for a breach of self-isolation legal requirements start at £1,000, in line with the existing penalty for breaking quarantine after international travel. This could increase to up to £10,000 for repeat offences and the most serious breaches, including for those preventing others from self-isolating.

The government said that employers who force or allow staff to come to work when they should be self-isolating will also be liable for fines of up to £10,000, as a clear message that this will not be tolerated.

Those on lower incomes who cannot work from home and can show that they have lost income as a result of the compulsory quarantine, lasting around 14 days, will also be eligible for a new £500 Test and Trace Support Payment.

The rules come in as infections continue to rise across the UK but only 18 per cent of people with symptoms of the deadly virus going into isolation, according to a study commissioned by the government.

The Department of Health and Social Care says those who test positive also will be fined if they knowingly provide false information to contact tracers.

Health Secretary Matt Hancock says the government will 'not hesitate' to introduce further measures to restrict the spread of the coronavirus.

The House of Commons on Wednesday may consider an amendment to existing legislation that would give Parliament the right to vote on any new restrictions.

Scientists find two virus-eating marine microorganisms

FOOD WEB

NEW YORK: Scientists have found the first compelling evidence that two groups of ecologically important marine microorganisms could be eating viruses — catching their "prey" and engulfing them, an advance that may lead to a better understanding of the flow of organic matter in the oceans.

The findings, published in the journal Frontiers in Microbiology, go against the currently predominant views of the role of both viruses and these groups of single-celled organisms called protists in the marine food webs.

Researchers separating microorganisms through flow cytometry | RAMUNAS STEPANAUSKAS

"Our data show that many protist cells contain DNA of a wide variety of non-infectious viruses but not bacteria, strong evidence that they are feeding on viruses rather than on bacteria," said study corresponding author Ramunas Stepanauskas, Director of the Single Cell Genomics Center at Bigelow Laboratory for Ocean Sciences in the US.

The scientists explained that the predominant model of the role of viruses in the marine ecosystem is that of the "viral shunt," where microbes infected with viruses lose a substantial fraction of their chemicals back to the pool of dissolved organic matter.

According to researchers, this finding "has implications for the flow of carbon through the microbial food web."

In the study, Stepanauskas and his colleagues sampled surface seawater from the Northwestern Atlantic in the Gulf of Maine in July 2009 and the Mediterranean off Catalonia, Spain in January and July 2016. They used modern single-cell genomics tools to sequence the total DNA from 1,698 individual protists in the water, and found evidence of protists with or without associated DNA.

The scientists found a range of protists including groups called alveolates, stramenopiles, chlorophytes, cercozoans, picozoans, and choanozoans.

Taken in 2013 when Margaret Alva, then Rajasthan Guv, released the Rajasthani edition of Ambassador PA Nazareth book, Gandhi's Outstanding Leadership.

SPOTLIGHT ON HISTORY

After writing two books on Gandhi, retired diplomat Pascal Alan Nazareth's new book, A Ringside Seat To History, takes readers through his career in the IFS

FROM THE PAGES

On the afternoon of December 31 1984, when Nazareth and others at ICCR were involved in finalising details for the Paris Opera presentation at Siri Fort Auditorium that evening, his sister Margaret Alva telephoned to inform him that then Prime Minister Rajiv Gandhi had summoned her to Rashtrapati Bhavan at 5 pm that evening for being sworn in as a minister. "Her husband Niranjan was away in Mangalore, and she hoped I, her elder brother, would accompany her to this important event. I was delighted by the excellent news she had conveyed, but was taken aback by her request because of the importance of that evening's ICCR event. Nonetheless, I agreed, picked her up at her residence and took her to Rashtrapati Bhavan. When we arrived, the security staff permitted Margaret to enter but not me as my name was not on their list of invitees. Fortunately, Foreign Minister P V Narasimha Rao, who was ICCR chairman, arrived just then and intervened on my behalf," he recalls.

• Vidya Iyengar

Ambassador Pascal Alan Nazareth's eventful career in the Indian Foreign Service (IFS) began in March 1959 when he and his colleagues were received by then PM Jawaharlal Nehru. At the same time, Foreign Secretary Subimal Dutt entered suddenly, whispering something in his ear. "It was about the Dalai Lama having crossed the border into India early that morning. Then turning to the Foreign Secretary, he said: 'These young officers will be dealing with the consequences of today!'" he recalls.

In his autobiography, A Ringside Seat To History, Nazareth shares more such experiences, both professional and personal. The book will release on a webinar on September 30, with one of the speakers being former foreign secretary Nirupama Rao. Giving in to his childrens' request to pen his journey in the IFS, Nazareth started work on this book on his 80th birthday in 2016. He has spent the last four years scouring through newspaper cuttings he made during and after service, researching details to put together the 250-page book, comprising a collection of old pictures.

The third-time author who has previously written on Gandhi – books of which have been translated into several languages – admits that writing an autobiography was a different experience. "They are more complex since it's hard to decide what to include and what not to. Having commenced writing it, I found little time for it because of frequent cruise lecture engagements, and travels for releases of the many language editions of my book, Gandhi's Outstanding Leadership," he says, adding, "My son, Anand kept nagging me about my having spent almost 20 years researching and writing about the already well-known Mahatma Gandhi and not writing my 'remarkable story which was far more interesting to GenNext'."

Social media and internet savvy, Nazareth spent six to eight hours when time permitted, typing out the book, unlike his first, which was handwritten. Once complete, he was encouraged by his revered mentor, former Foreign Secretary M K Rasgotra – who has written the foreword – who recommended it to his publisher. But after retaining it for seven months, Nazareth was informed that it didn't "fit the profile of our current non-fiction list." Alva then introduced him to her publisher, who as Nazareth puts in his book was "obviously interested primarily in spicy narratives of political party-hoppings and backstabbings rather than in history and diplomacy," and responded tersely that it wouldn't work for them. "I anguished over these twice 'dashed hopes' for some weeks and then decided to make one final effort to get this manuscript published," he says, after which he wrote to his IFS colleague T P Sreenivasan, who introduced him to Konark Publishers, which has brought out the book. "The process took only 33 days," he says.

Writings of P Lankesh to come alive through e-books

• Monika Monalisa

A national-award winning filmmaker, Sahitya Akademi winning author and playwright... P Lankesh was among the finest Kannada writers. The good news for bibliophiles is that his written works are soon going to be turned into audio books. The initiative, by son Indrajit Lankesh, is an effort to make his father's work reach the younger generation. "My father's books have always been versatile and is relevant to any generation. The digital format is to make his works live on in a format that is appealing to the younger generation," says the filmmaker, who, in recent times, has turned whistleblower, making sensational drug addiction charges against actors.

Lankesh had written around 20 books, including novels, plays, prose and poetry. Some of his popular works are Kallu Karaguva Samaya Mattu Ithara Kathegalu, Hulimavina Mara, Sankranti and many more. Indrajit says out of those 20 books, around 10 have already been dubbed. "For the rest, I am in talks with senior actors from Sandalwood for the dubbing. What I am looking for is a voice that will the suit the character," says Indrajit, who adds that all the audio books will be available in an app, which will be free to access. Each story will not be more than 10 minutes long.

Lankesh's books have influenced many, including his son, who admits that he was always in awe of his father's works. "My favourite from his list of books are Hulimavina Mara, which is his autobiography, and Sankranti, based on the life of Basavanna, the 12th century philosopher from Karnataka," says Lankesh junior, adding that no one else could have told Basavanna's story the way his father did.

Lankesh's works have been influential so much so that they are a part of the syllabi in many schools . So far, only two of his books are available as English translations, Kallu Karaguva Samaya, which in English is called When Stone Melts, and Sankranti, the English translation of which is Other Stories. However, many of his works have also been translated into Tamil and Hindi.

Swooning to a new tune

• Monika Monalisa

Once the 'Rock capital' of the country, many might assume that Bengaluru has lost it's music quotient. But this city-based band – Another Kind of Green, aka AKOG – is on a mission to get back the glory of rock music. The rockers just dropped a new single called Moonlight Swing, which, with an old-school rock and roll vibe, is a fourth single of their upcoming debut album, Plain Good Feeling.

Though the track was written in October 2019, it had a long journey before it released in mid-September. "We had written the song but wasn't sure how people are going to perceive it. We had performed it once or twice and people took it really well," says Shikha Chandrashekhar, AKOG's lead vocalist. She adds that they tried to do something new with the song by adding some live elements to it. "To enable a live performance feel, we got the chorus of 'na na na' sung by our follower, who recorded it and sent it to us. Later, we recorded our parts at our respective homes, and drummer Sanket Chakraborty mixed it," she adds.

The song opens with its signature rock guitar riffs, and it is sure going to give you the feel of Bon Jovi or Led Zeppelin classics. Chandrashekhar agrees. "The idea was not to create another Hey Jude or a rock song which people can sing along, but something that can also be turned into a rock anthem. The song has a lot of 80s glam rock vibe," says Chandrashekhar, who met other members of AKOG at her college, Christ University, where they formed the band.

It's been just two years since the band has been performing professionally, but it has already started grabbing attention from music lovers. The secret, she says, could be that all the members in the band follow different genres of music. "We are completely different from each other when it comes to our taste in music. Our music choices vary from death metal to jazz, and I personally follow funk rock. That's probably a good thing because it brings all our music sensibilities together to create something new," adds Chandrashekhar.

Put simply, Cyclotron is a film on the world's oldest functional particle accelerator. Or like its director, Jahnavi Phalkey, puts it, "It's a film on an extraordinary machine and tells the story of everyday science in a regional university in India, one that is so underfunded that it can't do the state-of-the-art research that it would like to do." The 59-minute long film is available for screening on Bangalore International Centre's website, as part of BIC Screens.

Breaking down what this particle accelerator does, Phalkey explains how this machine, in a way, was the early or baby version of CERN's particle accelerator. "It smashes open an atomic nucleus and allows one to study the physical properties of protons, neutrons and electrons," she says of the machine, which was brought to Panjab University, Chandigarh from the University of Rochester, United States, in 1967, in a dismantled form. This, at a time when nuclear physics experiments in India were done only in establishments with a department of atomic energy. "Indian universities didn't have the facilities needed for experimental nuclear physics. And you need people who are incredibly technically competent to function a machine of this sort - one that works on precarious balances of vacuum, power supply, etc," says Phalkey, who is also the founding director of Science Gallery Bengaluru, who fell compelled to film this documentary in 2012. "It took me this much time to release the film because I did it more as a passion project and did it alongside my other work."

"It is a story told through the eyes of the people who first made, run and used the machine

—Jahnavi Phalkey, Director of Cyclotron

But there's much more to this film than just the machine. "It's also a story told through the eyes of the people who first made, run and used the machine. So, the documentary features interviews with the first physicists who assembled the accelerator, the technicians, along with the students who did their PhD with the cyclotron," says Phalkey, who doesn't have an intended target audience for this film. "I didn't want to slow the film as a science, social or cultural film. Because it is as much about science as it is a historical or social venture. So, I don't have an intended audience. All I have is a film and I'm curious to see who will watch it," she says.

In 2007, Phalkey completed her PhD. As part of the process, she studied six laboratories in India – Cyclotron Laboratory at the University Science College, Kolkata; Department of Physics at the Indian Institute of Science, Bengaluru; Accelerator Division at the Tata Institute of Fundamental Research, Mumbai; Cyclotron at the Department of Physics at the Panjab University, Chandigarh; Van der Graaff at the Indian Institute of Technology, Kanpur; and Variable Energy Cyclotron, Kolkata. Of these, the first three were published as part of a book she wrote. "I haven't used the other three but have the research material on it. And when it came to this accelerator at Panjab University, I knew that writing about it academically wouldn't do justice to the human elements of the story. A film made more sense."

AN UNEXPECTED SURPRISE

An 89-year-old pizza delivery person received a surprise from "regulars" – a $12,000 tip. Derlin Newey was in disbelief when the Valdez family knocked on the door of his Utah home. He started delivering pizzas for Papa John's job after realising he couldn't live solely on social security. The Valdez family said they always ask for him when ordering pizza and started recording his deliveries as TikTok videos. With more than 53,000 followers, they often got comments asking why Newey was delivering pizzas at his age. The family then decided to use their platform for some good. They asked their followers to make a donation to help Newey, and they were quickly able to raise $12,000. They presented a signed checque to him as from his "TikTok Family." Newey didn't even know what TikTok was but was grateful for the gift. And if the cash wasn't enough, the family sweetened the surprise with a T-shirt that read, "Hello, are you looking for some pizza?", Newey's catchphrase.

FIT BIT

VAYU NISHKASANA
(WIND RELEASING POSE)

In Sanskrit, 'vayu' means 'air' or 'wind', 'nishk' means 'relieving' or 'releasing', and 'asana' means 'pose'. It helps in getting rid of reflux, flatulence and the air trapped inside the body. It helps to sit for long hours in meditative asanas. It is a great way to focus on your breathing. It helps in stretching and strengthening of the spine, which helps reduce pressure between your vertebrae and joints. The effects and benefits of this pose can be increased by combining the asana with Shambhavi Mudra or the eyebrow centre gazing.

STEPS

- Squat with your feet apart.
- Grasp the soles with your fingers keeping the thumbs above the foot.
- Your upper arms should be pressing against the inside of your knees with your elbows slightly bent.
- Keep your eyes open. You may gaze at the eyebrow centre with closed eyes.
- Inhale while moving your head back. Direct your gaze upward and inward.
- This is the starting position for this pose.
- Hold the breath for three seconds bending the head as backwards as you can.
- Exhale, straighten your knees, raise your buttocks and bring your head towards the knees.
- Hold the breath for three seconds while bending the spine. Don't strain.
- To release, inhale deeply and return to the starting position.
- Practise at least 5 to 8 rounds.
- Beginners can stay in the pose for 1-2 minutes. Advanced practitioners for 3-4 minutes.
- Rest in Shavasana for 1-2 minutes.

BENEFITS

- Activates nerves and muscles of the legs, arms and neck.
- Pelvic organs are massaged.
- Spinal nerves and dural sheaths are stretched and toned.
- Helps relieve pain from sciatica.
- Strengthens abdominal muscles and massages the intestines and internal organs of the digestive system.
- Infertility may be treated.
- Helpful for menstruating women.
- Therapy for flat feet. It helps with high blood pressure.
- Reduces respiratory ailments.
- Full body energiser. Balances the mind and increases concentration.
- Helps in getting rid of stress, mild depression and constipation.

LIMITATIONS

- Those with knee problems or sciatica, or are pregnant should do with care.
- Those who have high BP, arteriosclerosis should practise under guidance.
- Those suffering from peptic ulcer, hernia, intestinal tuberculosis should avoid this.
- If you have frequent headaches, migraine or chronic spinal or neck problems, avoid this.

Back until the early 1990s, right behind heroines and models figured (no pun intended) air hostesses. They were women pursuing the most 'glamorous' jobs, where appearance was said to matter as much as, if not more than, aptitude. They had to be tall and fit, with the rightly visible makeup and smiles firmly placed on their faces. They had to wear outfits that flaunted their curves. They had to have well manicured hands, with attractively painted nails. They had to look warm and welcoming. Three decades later, not much of all this would matter now. Air hostesses can very well look like pharmacy technicians. Or ambulance drivers. Hidden behind PPE outfits, masks and gloves, they almost fit the part now when they go through, robot-like as always, the safety demonstration routine.

No longer would the airlines feel a need to hire fashion designers for creating chic costumes for them. All they have to think of now is where to place the company logo on the PPE coats. And that is one of the things that struck me the most this weekend when I travelled by air post Covid. All the crew members on board looked the same as each other.

And all the passengers behaved the same — as they did before. There was the usual display of hurry, right from entering the airport to exiting the aircraft. Nowhere did the queues show that social distancing was on anyone's mind. Nowhere did sliding masks show that Covid was a nerve-racking concern. In fact, so casual seemed the approach of most people that the few who showed up dressed head to toe in PPE overalls shone bright, like little kids bobbling about as rabbits and ducks on a school stage.

It's heartening for sure to see things regaining normalcy, with flights almost full, all middle seats occupied, people eating and drinking in the lounge, and eating and drinking aboard the plane. At the same time, it's perturbing to see face shields cradled on the arm of someone who gives more importance to dozing off comfortably during the flight. Never before I think I have felt such constant surges of mixed feelings sweeping through me.

On one hand, it was moving to see so many first-time air-travellers nervously finding their way through the multiple routines. Carrying worn-out bags on their shoulders and wearing handkerchieves as masks, clad in faded T-shirts that were perhaps the best they owned, they inched slowly in the queue, trying to take cues from those pushing trolleys laden with expensive suitcases, and eagerly soaked in every on-flight instruction that the crew gave in Hindi. A heartwarming sight, for sure, but I couldn't help wondering if they were driven to dig into their meagre savings to take an aeroplane due to a lack of train or bus connectivity to their hometowns.

I spotted another kind of first-time travellers too — newborns. There were at least three couples I saw in a span of three hours at Bengaluru airport who were travelling with infants younger than about two months old. There were a few other young parents of toddlers, struggling with preventing them from playing on the floor, or touching various surfaces.

And there I was, wondering why I wasn't so nervous about turbulence any more.

Fresh ON THE MENU

Despite the F & B industry significantly hit during the pandemic, Bengaluru restaurateurs are taking a calculated risk and launching new dining spaces against all odds

ASLAM GAFOOR

In the backdrop of the pandemic, we have witnessed temporary or permanent restaurant closures across the country in recent months. However, in these tough times, there is good news to cheer on the food and beverage front with a slew of fresh bar and restaurant openings defying economic headwinds.

Last week, the much anticipated 7Rivers brewpub opened its doors at Taj MG Road, the first of the many outlets which will be launched across the country. You can sip craft beers from the onsite microbrewery housed in this 2,700 sq. ft. space while savouring a glocal menu, the best music and brewery tours. 7Rivers, designed by Hamburg's JOI-Design, is a collaboration between IHCL and AB InBev and given Namma Bengaluru's tag as the pub capital of India it's a delight to see the first 7Rivers open in our city.

Rock and roll inspired, 1522 The Pub is all set to open two new outposts on Residency Road and in RR Nagar in October and November respectively. From their first pub in Malleswaram, 1522 has already grown to five outlets in Koramangala, JP Nagar, New BEL Road and one in Mumbai spreading the love of music, food and drinks as our favourite neighbourhood bar.

HopsHaus brewery and kitchen in Whitefield is now serving innovative cocktails and global food prepared under the watchful eyes of award-winning chef Vikas Seth and his team. They will shortly commence production of their craft beers with hops sourced from the remotest corners of the globe. The expansive restaurant, filled with lush greens, private nooks, terrace seating and an emerald long bar, makes for a perfect setting to uncover the culinary, cocktail and beer experience here.

A once abandoned plywood factory has made way for the Geist Brewing Factory on Old Madras Road. The brewery will soon start pouring fresh craft beers to savour in the open-air restaurant built under the shade of a majestic 100+-year-old banyan tree. While the restaurant is currently open for food service, guests will shortly be provided brewery tours while they sip on Geist's entire range of beers, including limited-release brews. The beer garden experience will offer beer tasting sessions, food and beer pairing workshops plus guests will be able to take away Geist beer growlers to enjoy at home.

Then there is KoraMingle, a 12,500 sq. ft. bar and restaurant which is opening this week in Koramangala. We hear the interiors will reflect Amsterdam streets and the space will house a deli, a mystic medic bar and book library.

On a side note, mixologist Karthik Kumar and Prathik Shetty, owner of The Reservoire cocktail bar, have joined hands to launch 2 Ounces handcrafted cocktail mixers. The range includes seven variants such as Salted Caramel Old Fashioned, Black Martini, Jackfruit Mojito, Darjeeling Chai Punch, and three flavours of Ultimate Gin & Tonic. Packed in travel-sized bottles the premixes can be enjoyed anywhere, anytime - one ounce of your favourite spirit and one ounce of the premix is all it will take to fix your perfect two ounces cocktail.

ON THE WILD SIDE

Express Features

Nature inFocus, a wildlife filmmaking community, announced the winners of Nature inFocus Film Awards at a live virtual event recently. The second edition of the award ceremony received entries from several countries across the globe. The entries were strictly limited to wildlife movies shot on mobile phones.

A seven-member jury panel comprised founder-director of Dusty Foot Productions Rita Banerji, director at Riverbank Studios Gautam Pandey, natural history filmmaker Akanksha Sood Singh, conservation biologist Raghu Chundawat, wildlife filmmaker Joanna Van Gruisen and Drishyam Films founder Manish Mundra.

The event was hosted by wildlife filmmaker Sara, jury curator and a member of the community's advisory board.

In the 'Emerging Talent' segment, Naman Govil and Mithun TM won an award in the 'Conservation' category for their film Guardians of Turtles, while Dipen Rangmang and Thejavikho's Rearing Giants won an award in the 'Natural History' category.

Under the Professional segment, Nitye Sood and Malaika Vaz were winners of the 'Conservation Film' category for their film Peng Yu Sai. Kadar and Pollachi Papyrus won a 'Special Jury Award'. The Birds of Play by Upamanyu Das, Wings & Wetlands - A Story of Migration by Raghunath Belur and Sugandhi Gadadhar and Capuchin Culture by Luca Antonio Marino received a special mention.

Winner in the special category, 'Mobile Moments', – Akash Dolas had shot a 1.5-minute-long documentary, Artisans in Nature, on a smartphone. The micro documentary showcases the intricate and dogged construction of a pot by a potter wasp. Potter wasps use mud pellets to mould an earthen receptacle, into which they lay eggs and stuff paralysed prey (fresh food for the newborns) before closing the pot.

The community organises a wildlife documentary film festival – 'Nature inFocus Festival', which had to be cancelled this year due to the Covid-19 situation.

LOVEOLOGY
Mahesh Natarajan

With all the working from home that's going on, and the pressures that Covid-19 has brought in terms of parenting as a 24/ 7 activity, multiple generations living in the same environment as the people in a relationship, pressures coming from changes or risks to employment, it has been one intense experience for many people over the last few months. Even the easing out of the lockdown has not really changed things, and if anything it has increased the stress households feel with the constant checking in on whether we are wearing masks properly, whether there is enough sanitiser at home and at hand while out.

It is no surprise that there is that much more irritation, frustration, annoyance and downright anger. We are getting on each other's nerves and that energy is getting directed all over the place, like that much mustard spluttering when thrown into hot oil for a tadka. The irritability is at epic levels, and there's much snapping at each other and all the stress and tension we carry is just looking for an excuse to just come out and express itself. Families are talking about a lot more arguments and fights, and as things tend to happen, there is some kind of hierarchy that ends up becoming a reality in such fights.

The old story goes that the ruler of a kingdom loses a battle, and shows that anger upon the palace staff, who then, powerless as they are to take it back where it is needed, take it out on a more vulnerable person in the house, a child maybe, who then, further takes it out on someone even more vulnerable and defenceless - the family dog, maybe. The term 'whipping dog' comes from such a reality, where the family dog ends up being at the receiving end of much of the anger. It is not just an endless chain of violence - at other times, the affected party plots revenge and serves it cold to their grim satisfaction.

The more intimate the connection, the worse it can get. There is likely to be more intense and painful cycles of hurt and revenge. It might be silly things like an under-seasoned lunch, or a toothbrush used to clean the windowsill and left back in the cup. Having experienced love and deciding to live together doesn't make them immune to these action-reaction cycles, nor does it make the injured party magically absorb and just swallow all of it.

The question is: Are we destined to cycle around in these interminable cycles of violence and counter-violence? Will we keep passing on our hurt down, or get stuck plotting revenge? Or, can we really get anything close to a resolution?

Revenge is a me-first space, where the intent is only to give oneself some solace, even at the cost of love. Resolution is more a "We are OK, and if we can't be ok, I still want to be OK for myself, " space that seeks to defend dignity with grace.

KASTHURI MAHAL'S FIRST LOOK DROPPED

The story of the film, starring Shanvi Srivastava and directed by Dinesh Baboo, is based on the latter's personal experience, which he reveals through an interesting tagline, Fragrance from the past

● CE Features

Dinesh Baboo, who has brought in Shanvi Srivastava for his 50th directorial, Kasthuri Mahal has dropped the first look. The film, which comes with an interesting tagline-- Fragrance from the past-- gives us a glimpse of the protagonist. Sporting an ethnic look in the backdrop of a heritage house, it sets the mood and atmosphere of this paranormal thriller.

The subject, based on a true incident, is derived from his personal experience, and this first look further raises the curiosity which has been building up. Along with Shanvi, Kasthuri Mahal will also feature Sruthi Prakash, Skanda, and Rangayana Raghu in prominent roles. With Guminneni Vijay and PKH Dass handling the music and cinematography respectively, the team plans to begin shooting from October 5, at Kottigehara, Chickamagaluru. The entire picture will be shot in one stretched schedule.

A still from Old Monk

Director-actor MG Srinivas, who in addition to directing Old Monk, also plays the lead. Left with only two days of shooting with actor Sudev Nair, who plays the antagonist, the movie's shooting will be 50 per cent complete Sharing Old Monk's latest stills with CE, the actor-director says, "We have on board a host of senior artistes, including S Narayan, Sihi Kahi Chandru, R T Rama, Dingri Nagaraj, and Bengaluru Nagesh. These actors are making a comeback to mainstream cinema after a gap of 4-5 years. I had a great experience working with them, especially S Narayan sir, a noted director and actor himself. He brought a lot of improvisation to our story. Working with seniors and sharing the screen with them have helped us do well," he says.

The Old Monk team has planned another 15-day schedule in October when they complete the talkie portion. "The team will then start shooting for the songs," Srinivas states. The director of films like T*opiwala, Srinivasa Kalyana, and Birbal Trilogy: Case No 1* and F*inding Vajramuni ha*s come up with a story based on mythological character Bal Brahmachari. O*ld Monk, wh*ich means 'old sanyasi' is about a bachelor, known for gossiping and stirring up conversations, and the consequences he faces when he falls in love. Shooting of Avatar 2 complete, Avatar 3 95 percent done: James Cameron

A still from the film

● CE Features

Veteran filmmaker James Cameron revealed that the shooting of his much-anticipated Avatar 2 is over and the team is also almost done with the filming of the third instalment in the franchise.

According to Entertainment Tonight, Cameron shared the update on the follow-ups to his 2009 blockbuster during a Zoom interview with Arnold Schwarzenegger ahead of the 2020 Austrian World Summit.

The Avatar sequels were in the middle of production in New Zealand earlier this year when filming was halted due to the coronavirus pandemic. New Zealand was declared coronavirus-free in June, after which the team got permission to restart production with safety measures in place.

"COVID hit us hard. We lost about four-and-a-half months of production. As a result of that, we've rolled around one more full year for a release in December of 2022. That's been announced already," said Cameron.

Stories that demystify sex

Producer Guneet Monga talks about her new audio series, Jab We Sex, and taking India cinema to the global stage

● Ashameera Aiyappan

Guneet Monga, the woman behind celebrated films such as Gangs of Wasseypur, The Lunchbox, and Masaaan, is a trailblazer. Her production, Period. The End of Sentence, won the Academy Award for Best Documentary Short Subject. In 2018, Variety listed her amid the top 50 women to have created an impact on the global stage.

She is back now with an audio series backed by Audible Suno on sex-education. Titled Jab We Sex, Masti ki Paatshala, the series spans over 14 episodes and looks to demystify sex, one story at a time.

Excerpts from a chat:

What pushed you into exploring an audio series, and on sex education?

I think audio series is an intimate form of storytelling, and the tradition is ingrained in India's fabric. We love our stories. This medium allows us to cross genres and delve into sensitive topics. Here we can thoughtfully develop content without inhibition and judgment, more so than in a visual experience.

This medium has really expanded during the lockdown. The audio medium lends a certain individuality to consumption. Audible Suno allows us to push boundaries with the medium of storytelling.

You seem to have a fascination for topics that are usually considered taboo. There was Period. End of Sentence, and now, Jab We Sex.

As a storyteller, I want to explore the uncharted. Jab We Sex delves deep into the subject and talks about having multiple partners, the effects of pornography, and other subjects like sexual violence and abuse.

It has fourteen episodes featuring more than a hundred interviewees. The stories we have are amazingly diverse, including of the person who has had more than 200 sexual partners, a 75-year-old virgin, BDSM practitioners… We have covered so many hush-hush topics. My favourite is the episode about how parents have the talk with their children. It is also really entertaining.

Your production company is called Sikhya, which means learning. What would you say has been your biggest lesson?

The first was realising the power of showing up. We all have bad days where we don't want to go on. I believe just showing up has led me to a place where I can look back at a decade of work and see its impact. From not being able to move a rock, I now see I have moved mountains: be it making 40+ productions or going to the Oscars.

The second is 'power asking'. As women, we don't always ask but we should. It goes a long way.

You are listed as one of the producers for Suriya's Soorarai Pottru. How did that happen?

I had the rights to the book, Simply Fly: Deccan Odyssey, which is about Captain Gopinath's life; I partnered with Sudha Kongara on adapting it. It has been a great journey working together with Suriya and Sudha and we are excited to bring the film to a global audience.

India is so vast, and I would love to explore more in different languages. I have been telling around the world that India is just not about Hindi cinema. Fantastic work happens in Tamil, Mayalayam, or Bengali, with great filmmakers all around. We have a global footprint.

How do you see the recognition for Indian cinema in the global scene?

Earlier it was all thought of as belonging to Bollywood, a strange word to club all of us under. Bollywood was restricted to musical dramas and I was taking independent films which were not even close to that image. But now, that has changed. The world knows that Indian art speaks many languages.

How would you say you have evolved?

I am learning and finding my ground. The process is intuitive and is long-drawn. Every idea we pick is a story we need to keep telling beyond its immediate life, I should feel excited about that.

As a storyteller, I do think about impact. I was so glad that we could tell Period to the whole world and make a mark with our content. I am genuinely proud of Jab We Sex as well. I don't say this easily

There is still a need to have the 'woman producer'/'woman filmmaker' tag. Would you say things are getting better?

While I can see how there could be gender-related issues, the issue I have majorly fought against is ageism. Young people are still not given a chance. There is still an assumption that young people don't know enough. But who knows, maybe digital India will change that for the better.

What would be your dream project?

My dream project would be set in space. I can't tell you anything else. (laughs)
